GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORY OF CLARKS SUMMIT UNIVERSITY

Baptist Bible Seminary (so named because the school only offered a three—year Bible degree) was established in 1932 by a group of pastors led by Dr. Richard J. Murphy. Its original purpose of preparing men and women to serve Christ as they carried out the biblical command to "go into all the world and preach the gospel" has not changed. The founders insisted the new school be strongly biblical and that it keep high academic standards. Through the years, the school's leaders have continued those goals. The current motto, "Christ is at the center of everything we do," indicates high regard for God's Word as well as a commitment to excellent academics.

A three–year Bible program was in place during the early years of 1932–1947. In 1947, four–year programs in a variety of disciplines were added. A few years later, the Regents of New York State granted a temporary charter, and in 1954, they gave permission to grant the Bachelor of Theology and Bachelor of Religious Education degrees. In 1967, the Bachelor of Sacred Music degree was approved.

At that time, the school used the facilities of First Baptist Church, Johnson City, NY. As the number of students grew from the original 40, additional buildings were purchased. In the 1960s, the administration and the board of trustees saw clearly that the school needed a new campus. When the present site in South Abington Township, PA was purchased in 1968, this vision became a reality.

During 1968, the Association for Biblical Higher Education granted accreditation, and in early 1969, the Pennsylvania Department of Education approved the same programs and degrees offered in New York. In addition, they approved the Associate of Arts degree. In 1971, in order to accurately reflect the courses of study offered, the name of the Seminary was changed to Baptist Bible College of Pennsylvania. In 1982, the institution was authorized to grant the Bachelor of Science in Bible degree. The Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music Education, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Science in Education, and Bachelor of Science in Counseling degrees were added in 2012.

In September 1972, classes began at Baptist Bible Seminary. Initially offering the Master of Divinity and Master of Theology degrees, the Seminary now also offers the Master of Ministry, Master of Arts, Doctor of Ministry, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

Accreditation from the Middles States Association of Colleges & Schools was granted in 1984.

In 1989, the Pennsylvania Department of Education granted approval for the College to offer the Master of Science in Christian School Education degree. In 2010, that degree was renamed Master of Education. In 1996, the Master of Science in Counseling Ministries degree program was approved, then renamed Master of Science in Counseling in 2012. In 2007 the Master of Arts degree was approved and in 2012 the Master of Arts in Literature degree was added.

The school recently achieved university status with the Pennsylvania Department of Education, and the Trustees changed the name to Clarks Summit University in May 2016.

STATEMENT OF MISSION

Founded in 1932 in Johnson City, New York, Clarks Summit University is an educational institution that embraces its Baptist heritage. With a commitment to biblical authority, Clarks Summit University serves undergraduate, graduate and seminary students by preparing them for lives of significant service for the cause of Jesus Christ in a variety of ministries and careers.

As a learning community dedicated to biblical higher education, Clarks Summit University strengthens the church of God and influences society by cultivating an environment that promotes academic excellence and Christlikeness. Students are challenged to pursue biblical truth and wisdom, to embrace a Christian worldview, and to develop professional competence and relational skills.

Clarks Summit University aspires to be a community of individuals who love and serve God with all their heart, soul, and mind and who love their neighbor as themselves. We launch our graduates into the world as servants of God and as lifelong learners.

STATEMENT OF VALUES

Biblical Truth. We value the Scriptures as truth, the highest authority for faith and practice, the center of true learning, and the basis of our worldview.

Transformational Learning. We value the development of biblically-based critical thinking, building wisdom that transforms worldview, character, behavior, relationships, and ministry in conformity to Christ.

Spiritual Integration. We value the development of the whole person: the integration of faith and practice, mind and heart, and learning and service.

Global Orientation. We value obedience to the Great Commission; therefore, we seek to serve Christ in a myriad of ways anywhere in the world.

Cultural Relevance. We value living wisely within the culture that surrounds us, establishing a redemptive presence and speaking the truth in love wherever God sends us.

Christian Leadership. We value the development of leadership skills as the natural outcome of transformational learning, so we may assist others in achieving their God-given potential.

Baptist Heritage. We value the local church, the pillar and foundation of truth, along with the rich spiritual legacy of our Baptist distinctives and history.

Pursuit of Excellence. We value continuous assessment that leads to God-honoring improvement, innovation, and creative development.

Responsible Stewardship. We value the wise investment and management of the resources that God has entrusted to us, maximizing the benefit to those we serve.

STATEMENT OF VISION

Clarks Summit University's highly skilled faculty and staff craft a Biblically-saturated educational experience for each student, mentoring them toward a career that honors Jesus Christ.

The University's undergraduate programs offer each student a dual major in biblical studies and another major of their choice. This unique mix of academic preparation prepares a powerfully skilled graduate who can integrate truth in his or her life and career.

Every student gains an understanding of biblical truth, professional skills, and a strong core of courses in general studies. Spiritual dynamics are stressed in every program of study as well as in co-curricular studies.

The University offers graduate programs, which prepare godly servant leaders for selective careers. The Scriptures are the foundation for all instruction in the graduate program.

Baptist Bible Seminary offers theological training at Master's through Doctoral levels. It is characterized by a balance of academic excellence and passion for ministry. The Seminary catalog explains the uniqueness of its program and the flexibility of its course offering.

CONFESSION OF FAITH

We believe in the verbal and plenary inspiration of the text of the original manuscripts of the 66 books of the Old and New Testaments, which alone constitute the inerrant Word of God. We believe the Bible supports using a grammatical, historical method of interpretation in light of the progress of revelation. Thus, we believe that the Bible is the clear, sufficient, and supreme authority for all belief, life, and ministry.

We believe in the trinity of the Godhead: one immutable and omnipotent God, omniscient in all things past, present, and future, who eternally exists in three equal Persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

We believe in the deity, virgin birth, perfect humanity, sinless life, substitutionary death, bodily resurrection, and ascension of the Lord Jesus Christ. He is the only means of salvation from sin and the sole mediator between God and man.

We believe in the personality and deity of the Holy Spirit, through whose ministry believers today are regenerated, baptized into Christ and His body, indwelt, sealed, gifted, and empowered for service.

We believe that gifts of the Holy Spirit are given to build up the body of Christ. We believe that the sign gifts of the Spirit were given only for the apostolic era, providing revelation and authenticating the ministry of the apostoles.

We believe that God created the universe (including mankind) in six literal, consecutive 24-hour days apart from the process of evolution and that Adam and Eve were historical persons. We believe that mankind was created in the image of God and retains that image after the fall. All humans, from the time of their conception, including those who are physically or mentally challenged, have value as image-bearers. Therefore, we affirm the dignity of human life and oppose the use of abortion or euthanasia to end life. We affirm that all people are worth pursuing for the cause of Christ. Based on the model of God's creative design, we believe that marriage joins one man and one woman and is the only relationship in which sexual intimacy should be expressed.

We believe that all human beings are totally depraved and guilty before God as a result of the fall of Adam. We commit acts of sin because we are sinners by nature.

We believe that the Triune God saves sinners by grace alone through faith in Christ alone. God secures their eternal salvation, having sovereignly elected them to be willing recipients of His grace in Christ, whose blood was shed for the remission of sins.

We believe that salvation is demonstrated through good works that are part of a holy life. We believe that every Christian has the joyous responsibility of evangelizing sinners in obedience to Christ's Great Commission.

We believe that the universal Church is the body of Christ, comprised of all true believers from Pentecost until the Rapture. Jesus Christ is the sole head of the Church.

We believe that the local church is an assembly of immersed believers, led by pastors and served by deacons, independent and congregationally governed, in fellowship with other churches of like faith and order.

We believe that the local church is responsible to fulfill the Great Commission. It must observe the ordinances of believers' baptism and the Lord's Supper; foster true fellowship, prayer, and worship; edify and equip believers; and evangelize the world.

We believe that the only biblical mode of baptism is immersion; that baptism is for believers only; that it is a testimony of their identity by faith with Christ's death, burial, and resurrection; and that it is a prerequisite for local church membership.

We believe that the ordinance of the Lord's Supper is solely a memorial of Christ's death, and that the body and blood of Christ are not present in the bread and cup.

We believe in the priesthood of all believers and that we have direct access to God apart from any mediator except Christ. We respect the God–given capacity of individual soul liberty through which each person will give account for living by the dictates of his own conscience.

We believe in the separation of church and state, and that believers must fulfill biblical responsibilities to each.

We believe that the Bible directs us to a life of holiness, requiring separation from worldliness and ecclesiastical apostasy unto God.

We believe in the personal existence of angels as created spirit beings. God's holy angels are ministering spirits. Satan and other fallen angels can influence believers, but believers cannot be demon possessed.

We believe in the pre—tribulational rapture and bodily resurrection of the Church at Christ's imminent coming. Believers will give account for their works at the Judgment Seat of Christ, which will follow the Rapture.

We believe in the distinction between the nation of Israel and the Church, the Spirit-baptized Body of Christ. The Church is not the collection of all believers of all times.

We believe that God will fulfill the biblical covenants made with the nation of Israel. Though they are now dispersed among the nations, they will be re–gathered in the land of Israel and saved as a nation at the premillennial coming of Christ to the earth. At that time, Christ will begin his Davidic rule over the world for 1,000 years and continue to reign in the eternal state.

We believe in the bodily resurrection and judgment of unbelievers after the millennial reign of Christ. We believe in the eternal existence and punishment of all unbelievers in the lake of fire and the eternal existence and blessedness of all believers in the new heavens and earth.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

Personal Holiness

Clarks Summit University believes that it has a responsibility to guide students in their spiritual, moral, and intellectual development so they will be servants for Christ. We desire all those associated with Clarks Summit University to be characterized by the pursuit of godliness and biblical discernment in every area of life.

Philippians 4:8 instructs believers to be committed to whatever is "true, honorable, right, pure, lovely, and of good report." Additional Scripture passages that speak to this issue are Psalm 1 and 101; Romans 12:1-2; 1 Corinthians 10:31; 2 Corinthians 10:4-5; and Ephesians 5:1-17. First Corinthians 8-10 directs us to evaluate whether our choices might harm a weaker brother or destroy our testimony to the unsaved. We want to foster a positive and godly community spirit on campus that assists students in preparation for effective ministry leadership. This includes a Christ-like spirit in speech, attitude, and conflict resolution.

Trustees, employees, and students choose to use media, technology, and literature in a way that is consistent with Christ-honoring discernment. We choose to avoid any activity that does not promote values consistent with biblical principles of righteousness and personal purity. For instance, we choose not to use alcoholic beverages, tobacco, or non-medicinal drugs. We refuse to be involved in occult practices. We will not be involved in gambling, worldly dancing, and immodest dress.

Those who do not abide by the values or whose spirit is evidently unsympathetic toward the standards and ideals of the institution or who seem to be exerting any negative or harmful influence upon the school may be asked to leave.

Ecclesiastical Cooperation and Separation

The spiritual unity of all true believers in the Lord Jesus Christ is a great and blessed teaching of Scripture. All who minister for Christ quickly learn that spiritual unity is challenging to implement in the practical realities of ministry life.

As we equip our students for effective ministries and careers, we must help them understand the great value of wisely partnering with others to fulfill the Great Commission. Attendant to that is their responsibility to help them learn to identify unwise or unbiblical associations they should avoid. At times, we choose to limit our partnerships to ensure the opportunity to preach the whole counsel of God.

SPIRITUAL CLIMATE

Clarks Summit University strives to create a climate that promotes both learning and spiritual growth. Courses are taught by professors from a biblical point of view. In addition to course instruction, all students (residential and online) are encouraged to be involved in ministries in a local church or organization to put their knowledge into practice.

For residential students, activities outside the classroom, such as daily chapel, prayer groups, Spiritual Formation Day, Day of Prayer, and personal devotions contribute to spiritual development. Recreation and other co-curricular activities are designed to support this spiritual climate by teaching self-discipline, moral responsibility, and servantleadership.

Online students have the benefit of interaction with students and professors from all over the globe. The diversity of students in their courses helps encourage critical thinking through their courses and allows for deep interaction on spiritual issues. Online students are strongly encouraged to actively participate in their local churches as well as continue their spiritual growth through personal devotions and prayer. Chapel messages are available to live-stream through Facebook.

LOCATION OF CAMPUS

Clarks Summit University is located in Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania, a residential suburb that is part of the greater Scranton/Wilkes-Barre area with a population exceeding 500,000.

The University is easily reached by public transportation. Several airlines serve the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton airport at Avoca, and there is a major bus terminal nearby.

Access by car is also convenient. Scranton is at a crossroads of the interstate highway system of the northeastern United States. Interstate 81, the Northeast Extension (I-476) of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, and U.S. Highways 6 and 11 pass within two miles of the campus, and Interstates 80 and 84 are only a short distance from the University.

Organizations contributing to community cultural life include the Northeastern Philharmonic Orchestra and the Everhart Museum of Natural History, Science, and Art.

Other colleges in the area include The University of Scranton, Marywood University, Keystone College, Lackawanna College, The Commonwealth Medical College, the Worthington Scranton campus of Pennsylvania State University, Wilkes University, King's College, Misericordia University, and Johnson College.

FACILITIES

The 111-acre campus has been steadily developed since 1968 and now contains 18 major buildings.

Jackson Hall houses the administrative and faculty offices, most of the classrooms, a computer lab, a science lab, and the library. The Music Department occupies Buckingham Hall with music classrooms, practice rooms, and studio offices for the music faculty.

The Phelps Student Center includes food service facilities and is home to Clarks Summit University Defenders Athletics events. The building also houses offices, a game room, and dedicated meeting spaces.

The 62,000-square foot Recreation Center includes a running track, three basketball courts, and exercise, cardio, and aerobic rooms. The building also includes space for Athletics Department offices, classrooms, and furnished gathering areas.

Twelve three–story residence halls furnish on–campus housing for undergraduate, graduate and married graduate students.

ACCREDITATION AND CERTIFICATION

Clarks Summit University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104 (267–284–5000). The University has been accredited by Middle States since 1984. Middle States is a regional accrediting agency recognized nationally.

Since 1968, the University has been accredited by the Association for Biblical Higher Education, 5850 T.G. Lee Blvd., Suite.130, Orlando, FL 32822 (407–207–0808).

All degrees offered by Clarks Summit University have been approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

The Early Childhood and Elementary PK–4, Secondary Education English, Social Studies, Mathematics, PreK–12 Physical Education/Health, and PreK-12 Music Education programs are approved for Pennsylvania state certification.

ALUMNI OFFICE

The Alumni Office maintains an active relationship between the school and its alumni. It assists the Alumni Association in uniting alumni for spiritual fellowship, in promoting projects that support the school, and in maintaining enthusiasm for the University.

CAMPUS STUDENT LIFE

We believe experiences outside the classroom are just as vital to the personal development of our students as time inside the classroom. That is why we have worked hard to develop student life on a safe campus environment that encourages spiritual and social growth. Our campus offers numerous opportunities to fill important leadership roles and participate in various student activities. Uniquely designed residence halls help students develop lifechanging relationships as they grow spiritually and academically. Various student services provide the support that students need in order to enhance their academic program and care for their physical and emotional well-being. Our goal is to provide a positive atmosphere where students can expand their leadership capacity, explore their gifts and abilities, utilize their creativity, and make memories that will last for the rest of their life.

WRITING OPPORTUNTIES

The Vantage Magazine: Students interested in all types of writing are encouraged to contribute to the school magazine that is published four times a year. Led by a student editor, the magazine chooses a theme by which to interpret the happenings in and around campus for the campus body; it is published online through social media. Other jobs include: assistant editor, acquisitions editor, staff writers. The magazine's mission states: The Vantage magazine is to be an outlet for the voices of Clarks Summit University to express their opinions, creativity, and to interact with their community. Publication in the magazine is notable in a résumé for similar job inquires.

Sports Journalism: Students interested in writing, commentating, and/or organizing sporting events are welcome to join the practicums which allow them to work alongside the Director of Athletic Communications for the CSU Defenders. Students could write copy on the events for the website, commentate sports games live and over the internet, and other necessary tasks to make the home games run smoothly. This program is conducted as an internship would be and could be used for a résumé when sufficient hours are accrued.

Campus Writing Center: The Writing Center is student-run and open for students of all levels to gain instruction and guidance on how to make papers and assignments more effective. The lead consultant is called the Anchor, a student who oversees all shifts and reports to the faculty advisor. All consultants are versed in academic writing and use this opportunity as a ministry to help fellow students grow in their writing skills.

THEATRE OPPORTUNITIES

Clarks Summit University's Department of Theatre offers students of all majors the opportunity to discover a new talent, exercise developing skills, and transfer the principles of the classroom into the theatre to create vibrant works of art and tell meaningful stories. Students will learn what it means to be a vital member of an artistic community and will engage with a variety or performance, dramatic literature, and experience hands-on instruction in the varying disciplines of theatre. Production involvement is notable on a résumé and applicable to a variety of majors, ministries, and careers.

Mainstage Productions: These productions offer students and audience members a more traditional theatre experience. They are produced on our main stage, often attended by community members, and offer performances of more conventional classic works. Auditions are open to all students. Recent plays and musicals include: Peter and the Starcatcher, A Christmas Carol, Steel Magnolias, The Miracle Worker, Harvey, The Importance of Being Earnest, and Rodger's and Hammerstein's Cinderella.

Elsewhere Productions: These productions offer students and audience members a smaller, more contemporary theatre experience. They are produced "elsewhere," often in non-traditional spaces or settings and may include more contemporary works, experimental and devised theatre methods, and critically engaging performances that may address heavier thematic issues. Many of these productions are followed by a post-show discussion. Auditions are open to all students.

Student Productions: These productions offer students the chance to put their developing skills into practice, by taking on the challenge and responsibility of producing a larger work. They are often produced as a part of a class or as a Senior Project.

Local Productions: There are a number of local opportunities where students might put their classroom learning into practice. Students have participated in Shakespeare in the Park, The Scranton Fringe Festival, The Scranton Players, and more.

Field Trips: Learning to create great theatre isn't just about doing it, but also about observing it and engaging with others in the broader artistic community. Past field trips have included: Broadway, Off Broadway, New York University (NYC), The Arden Theatre, The Walnut Street Theatre (Philadelphia), The Shaw Festival, The Stratford Festival (Canada), The Bloomsburg Theatre Ensemble, The University of Scranton, Keystone College, Wilkes University, and more!

Study Abroad: Students may have the opportunity to study abroad for several classes during their time at Clarks Summit University. Past study abroad opportunities include: Drama in Performance (3 credits) in England and Devised Theatre (3 credits) in South Africa.

MUSIC PERFORMANCES

Clarks Summit University provides many opportunities for students to attend and participate in the production of significant musical events. Participants include both music majors and non–music majors. All performances are public events to which the student body, parents, and community are invited.

Concert Choir. Performing groups represent the University at churches and community events, and periodically tour on behalf of the University. All students are invited to audition for Concert Choir.

General Student Recitals: Several times each semester, our music majors perform a varied repertoire as part of our ongoing Music Performance Seminar.

Junior/Senior Recitals: Our upperclassmen music majors present public recitals. Students, faculty, family, and community friends are invited to these special events.

Departmental Concerts: All of our musicians join forces for seasonal concerts. The Winter Concert is in early December and our Spring Concert is in late April.

- Submit a $250 deposit by August 1 for enrollment in the fall semester and by December 15 for enrollment in the spring semester.
- * Student spouses, faculty spouses, and staff members should contact the Admissions Office for readmission instructions. At the discretion of the Admissions Committee, a personal interview may also be required. The Admissions Committee will review the readmit request and notify the student if they have been permitted to return.

Students readmitted to one of the University programs will normally be subject to current requirements for that course of study.

Music Students

Please note that acceptance into Clarks Summit University does not constitute acceptance into any of the degree programs offered by the Department of Music. Successful completion of the audition process, in addition to acceptance by the University, is needed for admission to music programs.

Auditions

An essential step in beginning a major in music is the audition. Its purpose is to evaluate your background and determine your potential as a music student. More information can be found at the following: https://www.clarkssummitu.edu/degrees-majors-minors/music-education-k-12/music-department-auditions/

Interview

Conversation with the faculty will help us discover important aspects of your preparation that will give insight to your readiness for music theory and your placement in a performing ensemble.

Eligibility

Students wishing to audition must first have completed all the following:

- Completion of junior year of high school
- Submission of admissions application to Clarks Summit University
- Declaration of music as major field of study

Audition Requirements

Worship Studies, PreK-12 Music Education, applicants will:

- Perform two contrasting works from the standard repertoire in their fields of study (voice, piano, or instrumental). Voice and piano applicants must perform one of these by memory (vocalists and instrumentalists). For vocalists and instrumentalists, an accompanist will be provided for your audition. Please send copies of your music along with your audition application and information form.
- Demonstrate sight-reading ability.
- Demonstrate aural skills (tonal memory, pitch accuracy, and vocal sight-reading).
- Perform major and minor scales in forms appropriate to your instrument or voice.
- Additionally, composition applicants must submit examples of their work at the audition.

Audition Dates

We recommend you schedule an audition as part of your campus visit.

Transfer Students

Clarks Summit University believes that learning, wherever it occurs, should be recognized and integrated into a student's degree program when that learning is found to be equivalent to that offered by post–secondary educational institutions and determined to be applicable for meeting degree and program requirements at Clarks Summit University.

Applicants who have completed courses at an accredited college or university may receive transfer credit for courses which apply to one of the University programs and which reflect a grade of "C–" or above. Credits from non–accredited schools must be validated. Clarks Summit University gives credit for suitable scores in Advanced Placement (AP) exams, International Baccalaureate (IB) courses, College Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams, and Defense Activity for Non–Traditional Education Support (DANTES) exams. These scores must be provided to the Registrar's Office prior to the student's last semester before graduation at CSU. Contact the Registrar's Office for further information.

Applicants who have earned 24 hours or more at an accredited college or have graduated high school at least two years prior are not required to take the SAT or ACT. Each transfer student must have official academic transcripts of all previous college courses sent to the Admissions Office before a decision will be made on the student's application. A minimum of a 2.0 cumulative college GPA is required. To qualify for graduation, students must complete at least 30 semester—hour credits at Clarks Summit University.

Non-Degree Seeking Students

There are numerous reasons why individuals take courses at CSU with no intent of pursuing a degree. Included are reasons such as personal growth, limited time in the geographical area, continuing education credits, and transfer credit to other colleges and universities. If a non-degree seeking student chooses at some later time to seek a degree, then the necessary admissions requirements for acceptance into that program must be completed.

Welcome Week-end

New residential and commuter students are expected to be present for orientation activities during Welcome Weekend

STANDARDS FOR ADMISSION—GRADUATE

Application Process

Online Application. Complete an online application and pay the $40 non-refundable application fee by credit card or check. Students can apply online at discover.ClarksSummitU.edu/applynow.

Upon receipt of these materials, the Admissions Office will process your application, notify you of your admission status, and send further information.

Readmission Policy and Procedures

If a student does not take classes for at least three years and has a desire to return, the student must apply for readmission, completing the following steps:

- Complete the Readmission Application.
- Furnish official transcript(s) of all post-secondary courses taken since leaving Clarks Summit University.

General Requirements

For admission to a master's degree program, the applicant should hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution. Applicants who possess bachelor's degrees from non–accredited institutions may enroll at Clarks Summit University if their degrees are validated by the Registrar. All application materials must be received by the Director of Admission before a candidate can be admitted to the program. Admissions requirements are listed for each program in the respective sections of the catalog.

Admission Levels

Applicants will be placed in one of the following classifications:

Fully Matriculated

This status is for university graduates who have submitted all required admissions materials and have been accepted by the Graduate Studies Committee. Applicants must provide personal and professional references acceptable to the Committee. Students accepted as fully matriculated must have an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher.

Matriculated, Provisional

The University may accept graduate students with the provision that they fulfill certain foundational requirements in order to qualify for degree candidacy. Provisional students must demonstrate competency in the specified areas by the time they complete 16 graduate credits. The fulfillment of these competencies may not be applied toward the graduate credits required for degree completion.

Provisional students receive academic advisement relative to course scheduling. Students will be advised on a case—by—case basis and allowed to take only graduate courses for which they have adequate foundational preparation. When all foundational competencies are met satisfactorily, the provisional student status will be changed to Fully Matriculated.

Matriculated, Probationary

In some cases, a student who does not meet the standard GPA graduate requirements may be admitted with the understanding that the individual's matriculation status will be reviewed regularly. Specifically, once a probationary student shows a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 during completion of the first nine graduate credits, the status may change from Probationary to Fully Matriculated.

Probationary students who do not achieve at least a 3.0 GPA during their first nine graduate credits have the option of repeating courses in an effort to raise their GPA to the 3.0 standard. Failure to do so will result in dismissal from the graduate program.

The student may reapply for admission back into their program after one year, and, if accepted, must retake courses in an effort to raise their GPA to 3.0. At that time the student will reenter under academic probation.

Matriculated, probationary students not able to achieve a 3.0 cumulative GPA at the end of two semesters will be dismissed.

Non-matriculated, Continuing Education

University graduates wishing to enhance their breadth of knowledge in one of the graduate programs may take courses following submission of a continuing education application. Enrichment students desiring to matriculate must follow the normal application process. Acceptance into a graduate program from enrichment student status is not automatic. If accepted, such students may then apply the graduate credits already earned toward the master's degree.

Non-matriculated, Undergraduate Juniors and Seniors

Undergraduate juniors and seniors may not be fully matriculated into a master's program until they receive a conferred baccalaureate degree. Selected students who apply and meet established criteria may be allowed to enroll in graduate courses.

Approved students may complete up to nine hours of graduate credits. Approval to take graduate credits does not automatically insure eventual matriculation into a master's degree program. Upon conferral of a baccalaureate degree, students follow the normal application process. If accepted, students may then apply the graduate credits earned toward their master's degree.

Academic Prerequisites for Admission

Students entering the counseling or education graduate programs are required to have prerequisite competencies in the fields of Bible and theology, as well as appropriate competencies in counseling or education. Before candidacy status can be granted, students lacking any prerequisites must develop, with their advisor, a program by which they will fulfill these requirements during their program.

Bible/Theology Prerequisites

- An undergraduate Bible/theology major or its equivalent, or
- Bible/theology competency, including knowledge of bibliology, hermeneutics, anthropology, soteriology, ecclesiology, separation, eschatology, theological systems, and general Bible content.
- Students who do not meet this prerequisite will need to complete TH517 Survey of Doctrines.
- Those students considered to already have a strong foundation in doctrinal issues may complete TH511 How to Develop a Biblical Worldview.

Education prerequisite for M.Ed.

ED560 Principles and Methods of Teaching and Learning.

Counseling prerequisites for M.S.C.

Admissions to the M.S.C. program requires six (6) credits of counseling/psychology from graduate or undergraduate courses.

International Students

This school is authorized under federal law to enroll non–immigrant alien students. Inquiries concerning admission policies and procedures should be sent to admissions@ClarksSummitU.edu. At least six months should be allowed to process international student applications.

Military Benefits

The University is an approved institution for Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC), Tuition Assistance, and GI Bill benefits. Students wishing to use the ROTC Scholarship should contact their recruiter. Students using Tuition Assistance should request authorization through their Education Office. Students using the GI Bill should obtain their Certificate of Eligibility from the Veterans Administration and provide it to the Financial Aid Office at registration.

Non-Discriminatory Policy

Clarks Summit University admits students of any race, color, or national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally made available to students. It does not discriminate based on race, color, national and ethnic origin, or handicap in the administration of its educational policies, admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school–sponsored programs.

Clarks Summit University does not discriminate based on handicap in the recruitment and admission of students, the recruitment and employment of faculty and staff, and the operation of any of its programs and activities, as specified by federal laws and regulations. The designated coordinator for University compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 is the Human Resources Coordinator.

Incentive Policy

Clarks Summit University does not allow its employees to accept any inducements (e.g. gratuities, favors, discounts, entertainment, hospitality, loans, transportation, lodging, meals or any other items having a monetary value of more than a de minimus amount) for the purpose of enrolling any student or any group of students. The employees (admissions, recruiters, financial aid, etc.) of Clarks Summit University do not utilize any high-pressure recruitment tactics as a means to enroll its students. There are no institutional recruiters, admission counselors, financial aid personnel or anyone in any position who receives any commission, bonus, or other incentive payment for securing student enrollments or securing financial aid (e.g. federal, state, institutional, local, military, etc.) of any kind.

ACADEMICS

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Degrees are awarded in May, August, and December and are awarded at the next graduation date after all degree requirements are met. The commencement ceremony is held in May. Candidates for graduation from the residential degree programs are expected to participate in the commencement ceremony rehearsal and in the commencement ceremony.

Because character is fundamental to Christian living as well as effective biblical ministry, Clarks Summit University stresses the central importance of reflecting the character of Christ in our lives and professional practice. While we are called to act redemptively toward those who fall, it is also true that actions have consequences. Therefore, moral or ethical misconduct is considered a serious violation of the Clarks Summit University Standards of Conduct and may be grounds for dismissal at any point prior to graduation.

Students who have 3 or less credits to complete their degree at the end of the spring semester of their last year will need to petition for permission to walk in commencement exercises. Students need to have a plan to finish the 3 credits by the end of the summer. Those with more than 3 credits to complete at the end of the spring semester of their last year may walk in commencement exercises the following May after completing the remaining credits of their degree.

General Requirements for Undergraduate Programs

To be eligible for a degree, the student must have:

- Completed a minimum of 30 semester-hour credits at Clarks Summit University.
- Earned a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0. Education programs require a higher GPA.
- Completed all the requirements of the student's program (see Curriculum Information).

The Education Handbook should be consulted for specific details by those accepted into the education programs.

General Requirements for Graduate Programs

To be eligible for a degree, the student must have:

- Completed a minimum of 2/3 of required classes at Clarks Summit University.
- Earned a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0.
- Completed all the requirements of the student's program (see Curriculum Information).

Special Requirement for Associate of Arts Degrees

Veterans and members of the military are only required to complete 15 credits at Clarks Summit University for the Associate of Arts degree programs.

Special Requirement for Master of Education Degree

Successful completion of ED591 Capstone Project.

Special Requirements for Master of Science in Counseling Degree

- Admission to degree candidacy status.
- A passing score on the written and oral comprehensive final exams.
- Successful completion of the supervised practicum and internship courses with a grade of "B" or higher in each course.

Special Requirement for Additional Degrees

At least 30 additional semester-hour credits must be taken for each additional degree received.

Multiple Degrees

Students may obtain multiple of the same degree as long as they meet unique credit requirements for each program.

Graduation Honors

Graduation honors announced at commencement are based upon a student's cumulative grade point average at the beginning of the last semester before graduation. The final transcript and diploma will reflect honors standing based upon completion of all academic studies.

The following standards apply:

Undergraduate

3.4	With Honor
3.6	With High Honor
3.8	With Highest Honor

Graduate

3.5	Cum Laude
3.8	Magna Cum Laude
4.0	Summa Cum Laude

CREDIT HOUR DEFINITION

At Clarks Summit University, academic credit is measured in semester hours. A semester hour represents the equivalent of at least one class period of 50 minutes per week for 14 weeks not including final exams. It is expected that students will spend approximately two hours outside of class for each hour in class or its equivalent.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE

Grade point average (GPA) is a numerical measure of all grades. It is calculated by dividing the total number of grade points earned by the total number of credit hours attempted (excluding courses marked AU, I, NG, P, S, U, W or WP). The student's GPA is based only upon courses taken at Clarks Summit University.

REPEATED COURSES

When both the original and the repeated course are taken at Clarks Summit University, the most recent grade replaces the previous grade in calculating the GPA. The student's grade point average is then adjusted to reflect the last grade. Financial aid will only be disbursed one time for retaking previously passed coursework.

CLASSIFICATION

Each undergraduate student will be associated with one of the organized classes and normally will remain with that class throughout the school year. At registration, each student is assigned to one of the four organized classes. This classification is based upon the total number of credits earned (including physical education) as described in the following scale:

ClassificationCredit HoursFreshman0-26Sophomore27-56Junior (Baccalaureate degrees)57-86Senior (Baccalaureate degrees)87 or more

All undergraduate students are also classified as full—time or part—time, depending on the number of semester hours for which they are enrolled. The part—time student is one who is enrolled for less than 12 semester hours. The full—time student is one enrolled for 12 or more semester hours. To receive veterans' benefits, a student must be enrolled for 12 or more semester hours of credit. Classification of students is determined at beginning of each term.

CONFIDENTIALITY OF STUDENT RECORDS

Student records are maintained in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. The information contained in the student's permanent educational record will be made available to the student but not to others without the student's written permission. Specific details are available in the Registrar's Office.

TRANSCRIPTS

Student transcripts are released only by written request of the student. No transcript will be released unless the student has paid all financial obligations to the University. Unofficial transcripts will be sent to the student, whereas all official transcripts will be sent only to agencies and institutions designated by the student. Unofficial transcripts are available to students in the student portal.

GAINFUL EMPLOYMENT

The U.S. Department of Education has issued the final rules and regulations on "gainful employment." These provisions are applicable to all schools that offer any non–degree programs of study. All non–degree programs regardless of school type or educational level are currently subject to gainful employment requirements. Only degree (associate, bachelor, graduate and/or professional) programs and two-year transfer programs are not subject to gainful employment requirements.

Clarks Summit University does not have any programs of study that fall under the regulatory requirements of Gainful Employment Programs as determined by the U.S. Department of Education.

RICHARD J. MURPHY MEMORIAL LIBRARY

ClarksSummitU.edu/library

Located on the first and second floors of Jackson Hall, the library provides students, staff, and faculty with materials for their intellectual, cultural, and spiritual development. Library services are available for over 80 hours each week during the academic year. Many of the library's resources are available through the library's website 24 hours a day to both on-campus and off-campus users. Library staff members provide instruction in research methods and resource use through collaboration with faculty in classroom settings and informal conversation with students.

Library collections reflect the quality of many years of planned growth and development in support of the institution's educational objectives. The library specializes in the areas of biblical studies, theology, and Christian ministries, and maintains robust collections in history, education, literature, music, and counseling. Careful attention is given to providing a diversity of viewpoints in keeping with library's purpose as an information center. Currently the printed resources total over 90,000 volumes. The library maintains a growing collection of e-books that currently numbers over 10,000 titles. Agreements with regional library consortia expand the resources available to students, staff, and faculty

The library offers a wide range of periodicals and scholarly journals in print and online format. Nearly three hundred print subscriptions are available, and over 25,000 full-text titles are accessible through the library's website. The library's curriculum area houses teaching materials for elementary and secondary education in public and Christian schools. The library provides a wide array of current multimedia tools and computer workstations. Attractive spaces for collaborative and individual study are available throughout the library.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS—UNDERGRADUATE

Academic Load

The normal student load is 12–18 class hours per week. About two hours of study time should be allowed for each hour of class. Approval of student loads over 18 hours may be granted to students who have demonstrated superior ability. The University may limit the load of students with excessive employment or low grades.

Grading System

Point values are assigned to each grade to determine a student's grade point average. The following scale is used:

Α	95-100	4.00	grade points per credit hour
A-	92.5-94.9	3.66	grade points per credit hour
B+	90.0-92.4	3.33	grade points per credit hour
В	87.5-89.9	3.00	grade points per credit hour
B-	85.0-87.4	2.66	grade points per credit hour
C+	82.5-84.9	2.33	grade points per credit hour
С	80.0-82.4	2.00	grade points per credit hour
C-	77.5-79.9	1.66	grade points per credit hour
D+	75.0-77.4	1.33	grade points per credit hour
D	72.5-74.9	1.00	grade point per credit hour
D-	70.0-72.4	.66	grade point per credit hour
F	0-70	.00	grade point per credit hour

Other course grades include:

AU	Audit or a course not taken for credit
NG	No grade submitted by the instructor
0	Catiofactory completion

S Satisfactory completion

U Unsatisfactory performance

FN Failure for Non-Attendance

WP Withdrawn Passing indicates that a student withdrew from a course and the student's performance was satisfactory at the time of withdrawal.

WF Withdrawn Failing indicates that a student withdrew from a course and the student's performance was unsatisfactory at the time of withdrawal.

Class Attendance

Regular and prompt attendance at all class sessions is expected. Detailed expectations on attendance, absence, and tardiness are published in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

Academic Honors

Alpha Gamma Epsilon

Members of this local honor society are chosen according to the following standards: 1) completion of 57 semester hours (Junior status) while seeking a degree at Clarks Summit University with a total grade point average of 3.4 or higher; 2) sympathy toward and support of Clarks Summit University standards and ideals; 3) faculty approval. Membership certificates are presented following selection to this honor.

Academic Deficiencies

Academic Restriction

Any student whose cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Restriction. This prohibits students from participating in more than one major extracurricular activity per semester. Online students on academic restriction are limited to taking one course per session.

Academic Probation

Serious academic deficiency will result in a student being placed on Academic Probation. Students on Academic Probation may not participate in any major extracurricular activity until the probation is removed. Normally, probation means that your cumulative grade point average has fallen below the level specified on the following scale:

Credits	Cumulative	Cum. GPA for students in
Attempted*	GPA	Accelerated Counseling
1-18	1.4	2.4
19-36	1.6	2.6
37-55	1.8	2.8
56+	2.0	3.0

*Includes transfer credits (if any) but excludes credit hours for repeated courses and courses graded S, U, I, WP, or AU.

The Admissions Committee, the Readmissions Committee, or the VP for Academics may impose a special probation status in certain cases. In these cases, the specific details of the probation will be given to the student.

As it relates to academic restriction or probation status, a major extracurricular activity is defined as participation in student government, intercollegiate athletics, music groups, or any organized student group or activity functioning regularly. If a student is earning academic credit by participating in a particular activity, the definition of extracurricular does not apply. If there are questions on whether a given activity or group is considered a major extracurricular activity, consult the OSD Deans. At the conclusion of each semester, the VP for Academics reviews the achievement of every student with semester or cumulative grade point averages below 2.0. He may administer Academic Dismissal, if a student has:

- been on academic probation more than one semester,
- failed to meet the requirements of the special academic probation which may have been imposed,
- experienced extreme academic deficiency during that semester (even if he/she has not been on academic probation), and the prospect for significant improvement seems remote. Students who have been dismissed for academic reasons may seek readmission after one semester of not attending CSU.

Ministry Development

The Ministry Development department exists to help students identify opportunities in which they can apply their education in real-life ministry settings and serve unselfishly. This practical ministry experience helps to facilitate development in both spiritual maturity and ministry skills.

The Ministry Development department is designed to cultivate a culture of ministry among students and seeks to partner with local pastors, ministry leadership, professors, staff, mentors, Resident Directors, and others in accomplishing this.

There are numerous ministry opportunities for students to become involved in nearby churches, in the community, and on campus. Some of these opportunities include assisting a church plant, working with inner-city youth, learning to teach, discipling inmates, bringing hope to nursing home residents, using sports as outreach, sharing the gospel in New York City, counseling teens, assisting nonprofits, preaching, ministering through music, or developing a new ministry. There are also opportunities during the summer, which include missionary and pastoral apprenticeships, camp work, and numerous local church ministries.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS—GRADUATE

Grading System

Academic credit is measured in semester hours. The grading system for graduate courses with accompanying grade points is as follows:

Α	4.0	95–100
A-	3.75	92-94
B+	3.5	90–91
В	3.0	87–89
B-	2.75	85–86

NG No grade submitted by the instructor

FN Failure for Non-Attendance

W Withdrawal during first one-third of a course, not computed in grade point average

WP Withdrawal after one—third of a course is completed with passing grades, not computed in GPA Withdrawal after one—third of a course is completed with failing grades, is computed in GPA

Transfer Credit

Up to one—third of a student's program may be accepted as normal transfer credit from other graduate schools providing the course work is relevant to the student's program and equivalent to Clarks Summit University courses. Only courses that have received a grade of "B" or better will be considered for transfer credit. Those desiring consideration should make application to the Graduate Studies program director. Graduate—level courses taken while an undergraduate student may be eligible for transfer to the graduate program. Please check with the Program Director for further information.

Academic Deficiencies

At the end of each term, Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) will be evaluated for all students. Students falling below a 3.0 cumulative GPA at the end of a term will be placed on academic probation. A student on academic probation may continue to take courses in an effort to raise their GPA to a minimum of a 3.0 but will be restricted to one three-credit course per session for online students or six credits per semester for on-campus students. This restriction will be lifted upon removal from probation.

Students unable to achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.0 after one year on probation will be dismissed. After one year of dismissal, the student may apply for reentry into the program, and if accepted, must retake courses in an effort to raise their GPA to a 3.0. The student has one year to raise their GPA. If unsuccessful, the student will be dismissed and not allowed to return.

Student Appeals Process

Academic decisions are intended to be final and binding. All students, however, have the privilege of making appeals and addressing grievances related to the admissions process, retention, candidacy, comprehensive examination, and graduation. Students with such concerns should first appeal to their Program Director. The next level of appeal is the Dean of their school. If matters are not resolved to the student's satisfaction, then both the student and the Dean should document their issues in writing and submit the matter to the Vice President of Academics. The Vice President of Academics will be considered the final step in the process.

Course End Dates

A course end date is the date by which all work must be submitted. These end dates are as follows:

Master of Arts

Online courses: Last day of the online course.

Master of Education

Online courses: Last day of the online course.

Master of Science in Counseling

On-campus and online classes: Last day of class or by the date specified in the syllabus.

Weekend seminars: Six weeks after the seminar.

Course Extension Policy

Clarks Summit University understands that unexpected, extenuating circumstances may keep students from completing a course during the normal enrollment period. Because of this, students are offered the ability to apply for a course extension.

Below are included some frequently asked questions, policy details, and general information to make it easy to determine whether a course extension is appropriate and to simplify the application process.

Who can apply for a course extension?

Course extensions are available to all students who are currently enrolled in a graduate class at Clarks Summit University. To apply, simply fill out the form and submit it to the course professor.

What is a valid reason to file for a course extension?

There are three valid reasons that a student may request a course extension:

1) Illness, 2) Extenuating personal circumstances, 3) Military deployment.

What is the deadline for requesting a course extension?

A request for a course extension must be received prior to Wednesday of the last week of the enrolled session.

How long is the extension?

A course extension will permit the student an additional two—week period from the closing date of the enrolled course. At this time, all class requirements must be submitted so an appropriate final grade can be given.

How many extensions am I able to apply for?

One extension will be granted per course. If course work is not successfully completed by the end of the extension period, the grade will reflect the assigned work accomplished at the end of the extension. In extreme circumstances, program directors may grant an additional extension at their discretion. A new request must be submitted directly to the Program Director in this case.

What grade will I be given at the end of the course?

A grade will be assigned at the end of the course that reflects the work accomplished to that date. If a course extension is granted, the professor will submit a grade change at the end of the two weeks that reflects the additional work accomplished during the course extension.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

At our best, Clarks Summit University stands for academics for life and ministry, where our intention is to find, nurture, and then unleash into our culture, biblical leaders—those who love God, serve others, and think well with strong minds! Unfortunately, this can sound like a lot of hype, when in truth it requires a slow and often unglamorous process of hard work and patience. For you the student, the day-to-day requirements involve refusing to coldly analyze your church and world, but instead, nourishing a fervent love for God arm-in-arm with others that call on Him with a pure heart. It also means recognizing that good intentions and intense activity (however admired) are not enough. Most of all, it means taking hold of the unique opportunity this brief window in your life offers, namely that of intense, disciplined study of Scripture, of your world, and of the skills necessary for transferring your life to others. For those who embrace this discipline, university life is essentially one of unusual breadth and exposure, a potential vista that opens between the chaotic preoccupations of childhood and the narrowly focused responsibilities of adult life. If you are going to learn how to see far and wide, now is the time to make it happen.

Our prayer for you is that you refuse to fragment your life into stale, lifeless compartments, but instead, that you grasp the truth that academics properly understood is life and ministry. We stand on this wholeness of integrity, thoughtfulness, and ministry because God Himself has declared His redemptive plan to consist of the reunification of Himself with man, of man with his fellow man, and of the various facets of man himself (Eph. 1:22-23; 4:10,17-18a; 5:8-10a,15-17).

Admittedly, this grand process of integration cannot be confined to the classroom, but neither can it be excluded from it. The very person and work of our Savior demand that we truly devote our lives to learning no less than to serving, likewise no less than to loving God. Indeed, we can neither serve nor love a God we do not know.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Online Classes

Course attendance for online classes is to be reported to the Registrar's Office at the end of the first week. If a student does not participate in an online course for two consecutive weeks the student will be marked absent and given a FN grade (failure for non-participation).

Residential Classes

Student attendance for residential classes is recorded in Portal for each class period. Attendance is recorded daily for the first full week of class and then at least weekly thereafter. Residential undergraduate students who exceed the allowable limit may appeal their absences, at the end of the semester, to the Absence Appeals Committee.

In-class interaction with professors and classmates maximizes the benefits of the educational program of Clarks Summit University. We expect you to attend all scheduled classes regularly and punctually. We want you to appreciate your learning opportunities while developing personal responsibility, self-discipline, and decision-making skills.

The University faculty is encouraged to assist you in developing these important qualities through class attendance requirements. Faculty members use various approaches to encourage attendance, and they are explained in the course syllabi. Academic bonuses or penalties related to attendance will not exceed five percent of the final grade. Generally, it is understood that absences should be reserved for emergencies, sickness, or school-sponsored activities. As questions arise in this area, please speak to your professor. The following standards have been established to allow reasonable absences as you develop personal discipline.

Maximum Absences

- Multiply the number of class meetings per week by two (except modified schedules) to find the maximum number of allowable absences per semester for any reason.
- The student should determine when and why he or she takes an absence. Absences (including excused absences) beyond the maximum number allowed are considered excessive and will lower the course grade as follows:
 - For classes meeting three or more days per week, a 2% reduction in the final grade per absence over the limit will be assessed.
 - For classes meeting two days per week, a 3% reduction in the final grade per absence over the limit will be assessed.

- For classes meeting one day per week, a 6% reduction in the final grade per absence over the limit will be assessed.
- Three tardy arrivals to class will result in one absence. On the third tardy, the student will be marked absent in portal.

Automatic Failure

Automatic failure will result if a student's absences exceed one quarter of the scheduled sessions for a course, even if some of the absences are for university-approved and university-sponsored activities. In extraordinary circumstances, the Academic Office will consider an appeal for this failure.

Failure will occur when a student's absences reach the following levels.

Class Sessions Per Week	Absences
5 day-a-week full semester class	19 absences
4 day-a-week class	16 absences
Class with a 2-hour lab	16 absences

Adjustments for Extracurricular Activities

Students are encouraged to be involved in extracurricular activities such as field trips, athletic contests, musical events, special ministries, etc., sponsored by the University. Sometimes participation in such an activity may force the student to be absent from class, and he or she will need to use cuts for such extra-curricular events. In addition, upon appeal, students may be granted up to the following additional absences:

- Two additional absences for classes meeting 3-5 days/week
- One additional absence for classes meeting 1-2 days/week

In unusual cases, a student may be permitted to take exams or quizzes late without penalty for university-sponsored absences, illness, or a death in the family.

INTERIM GRADE REPORTS

Periodically, during each semester, faculty submit a list of those students whose class achievement at that time is below a C average, have excessive absences, or are otherwise in danger of not completing the class. This is for the purpose of helping the student by monitoring progress and does not appear on a student's permanent record.

LATE WORK POLICY

While at Clarks Summit University, students are expected to work diligently as they learn the important skills of time management and responsibility. However, there will be times when work may be turned in late. In such cases, the following guidelines are followed.

- Each faculty member may establish his or her own late polices based on style of teaching and content needs.
- This policy will be clearly articulated in the course syllabus.
- Late work policies could include:
 - The steps for turning in late work (i.e. permission, form, email, etc.)
 - o The immediate penalty for late work (i.e. point reductions, limited feedback from instructor, etc.)
 - The time frame for accepting late work (i.e. cut-off date, maximum number of days, etc.)
- Late policies will make allowances for emergency situations that arise without creating an overwhelming grade penalty for the students.

Because a student's overall education is not limited to the content of a course, our Clarks Summit University faculty seek to exhibit grace in the application of these policies.

FINAL EXAM POLICY

Final Exams are not allowed to be taken early.

The final exam schedule will be published during the first month of the semester to allow for students to arrange endof-semester travel plans.

If there is an academic scheduling problem, and two finals are scheduled at the same time, the student and faculty member will arrange an alternate time.

If there is more than one section of a course, the professor may approve a student taking the exam at a different time.

If there is an unplanned emergency (sickness, death in the family, etc.), students may petition the Vice President for Academics for permission to take their finals at an alternate time. This alternate time will be worked out between the Academic Office and the faculty members affected.

COURSE GRADES

Final course grades are usually entered in Portal within three business days after the end of the course. Students may access their grades through the Student Portal. Instructions for Portal are available from the Registrar's Office.

WRITTEN WORK STANDARDS

In order to help an undergraduate student standardize appropriate style and form for the writing of papers, the Clarks Summit University faculty have adopted specific styles. Undergraduate programs use the MLA format. Most graduate programs at the University use the APA format. The Seminary uses Turabian format. Students should be familiar with their respective format and papers will be graded according to this standard.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Students are expected to display integrity in all their academic work. Academic dishonesty or cheating of any kind is a direct violation of biblical principles. Clarks Summit University takes dishonesty very seriously. The following policy outlines how academic dishonesty is handled. It is expected that all work students submit to any class for grading is their original work unless the student gives credit to the source. A student who does not exhibit honesty may be dismissed from the University.

Plagiarism Policy

Plagiarism, the act of presenting another person's work as one's own, is a serious, punishable offense. Plagiarism is a form of cheating and is an academic integrity issue. Plagiarism involves presenting another's text, idea, vocabulary, or sentence structure as one's own. Plagiarism issues also include copying one's own or another student's work, submitting one paper to multiple professors (without prior permission), or cutting and pasting passages from another work into one's work and presenting it as original. Further, proper referencing issues, source documentation, and collaboration are also plagiarism issues. It is the responsibility of the student to examine and understand the act of plagiarism to ensure correct presentation of original thought and research in academic work.

Processing Academic Dishonesty

With this in mind, the steps below will be followed when any incident of academic dishonesty occurs.

- Faculty members will handle formatting issues and minor textual issues during grading.
- First Offense: Any submitted work exhibiting academic dishonesty will receive a failing grade. The faculty member will confront the student privately and make sure that the student understands the offense. The faculty member will keep a copy of the submitted work, a copy of the supporting proof of the cheating, and other pertinent documentation of the offense. Notice and record of the offense will be given to the School Dean and the Academic Vice President. That documentation will be kept on file in the Academic Office. The Office of Student Development (OSD) will be notified.
- Second Offense: A second offense in any course by the same student will result in a failing grade for the course where the second offense occurred. The School Dean and the Academic Vice President will be notified, the documentation of this offense will be added to their Academic Office file, and OSD will be notified.
- Third Offense: In any course by the same student will result in dismissal from the school. The School Dean and the Academic Vice President will be notified, the documentation of this offense will be added to their Academic Office file, and OSD will be notified. The student may apply for re-admission to the school upon demonstrated evidence of personal growth.
- In the case of online students, The Director of Distance Education should also be notified.
- In the case of seminary students, the Chaplain for the Seminary should be notified.
- Any offense may be appealed by the student through Academic Affairs.

- The student has 30 calendar days from notification of a decision to appeal that decision. The grievance process is outlined below.
- Depending on the severity of each case, the University reserves the right to immediately dismiss a student for cheating.

STUDENT APPEALS AND GRIEVANCE POLICY

Academic decisions are intended to be final and binding. All students, however, have the privilege of making appeals and addressing grievances related to exams, assignment grades, course grades, plagiarism, academic integrity issues, or any other issues relating to academic standards or performance. Students with such concerns should follow this process.

- Present your grievance or argument in a one-page document, specifying your concerns, grievance, or issue in dispute
- First, to the faculty member in charge of the course
- If there is no resolution, the student may appeal to the dean of the school under which the course falls
- If there is still no resolution, the student may appeal to the Vice President for Academics
- If there is still no resolution, the student may appeal to the Academic Affairs Committee, whose decision will be final, and binding
- Timing: All complaints must be filed with 30 calendar days after the incident occurs. The student has 15 calendar days from notification of a decision to appeal that decision.

At each stage of this process, if matters are not resolved to the student's satisfaction, then both the student and the University's representative in that stage should document the issues in writing for submission of the matter to the next stage of appeal.

ACADEMIC CURRICULUM

ACADEMIC PHILOSOPHY

Clarks Summit University pursues excellence in biblical higher education for effectiveness in global Christian leadership. This vision guides the academic philosophy of the University and its graduate programs.

Development of Philosophy

Clarks Summit University has always been committed to biblical higher education. Over the course of time, the way in which biblical higher education is offered has grown and improved. Each undergraduate student pursuing a bachelor's degree has a Bible major, taking at least 30 credits of Bible and theology. This provides the foundation for all other studies offered.

At the founding of the University in 1932, most classes were in Bible, theology, and ministry skills. Students enrolled because they desired to serve God's church in some way. Some sought vocational ministry, others simply desired a deeper understanding of the Word of God. In those early days, the educational program was modeled after a Bible institute. Students took very few general studies courses.

As the school prepared to offer degrees, general studies courses were added. This addition created an unusually strong foundation for service to Christ. A general studies course, typically composed of arts and sciences, teaches students how to think with breadth and insight, and how to express themselves clearly. The combination of general studies, Bible, and theology allowed the students to understand truth and ethics, and also communicate these well. Graduates have filled positions in an astounding array of fields. The capacity to think biblically and express themselves cogently provides skills that are transferrable to nearly any discipline.

As the years went by, additional academic programs were offered, each built on the Bible major. These new program offerings amounted to a second major. Graduates have the equivalent of a double major in Bible and another field of study.

In 2012, the University was granted permission to offer an array of bachelor's degrees corresponding to the various programs. All students still receive a major in Bible.

The curriculum is offered through four schools: Arts & Sciences, Theology, Education, and Seminary.

Implications of the Philosophy

The academic philosophy and the curriculum that stems from it are rooted in a belief that university education must do more than supply information for students. Students must also develop in conviction, commitment, character, competency, and capacity.

Clarks Summit University graduates are marked by strong convictions because of their Bible major. Effective leadership is based in the Word of God, which produces a faith that has the doctrinal support for all of life and service. The curriculum produces leaders with professional competence and a confidence in the capability of God's Word to meet needs in every situation.

The Clarks Summit University academic philosophy leads students to a commitment to live as authentic followers of Jesus Christ. Their thoughts and actions are rooted in the Scripture, not human traditions. They are committed to the local church, to its work and His people, and focused on fulfilling the Great Commission wherever God leads them.

Conviction and commitment produce graduates who are Christ–like in their character. As students seek to become like Christ, they grow into persons of honesty, credibility, wisdom, integrity, and maturity, capable of building constructive relationships based on the love of Christ.

The curriculum also shapes effective graduates by training them in competencies specific to their disciplines. Clarks Summit University classes are designed in such a way that students not only increase in knowledge, but increase in capacity. They become life—long learners, and, in the process, continually discern how God has designed them to serve Christ effectively.

The Clarks Summit University curricular philosophy results in the holistic development of each student. Strength of intellect and depth of capacity mark graduates whom God can use greatly.

Extending the Philosophy into Graduate Education

In the late 1980s, Clarks Summit University created two graduate programs in education and counseling, and in 2006 added a Master of Arts program to augment the undergraduate programs. These programs are also based on biblical knowledge. Graduate students take a narrower educational focus but still gain new capacities in truth and ethics. Development of higher-level communications skills is a central component of the learning process.

Students must have undergraduate credits in general biblical and theological knowledge, and they must also know how to study the Word of God. If a student lacks this base, additional classes are required to attain the master's degrees. Biblical truth is a necessary foundation to graduate education at Clark Summit University.

ACADEMIC OBJECTIVES

Undergraduate Programs

Upon successful completion of a bachelor's degree, graduates will:

- Demonstrate an understanding of selected knowledge in the areas of Bible, humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences based on a Christian worldview.
- Demonstrate skills in critical thinking, value judgment, communication, and contextual understanding of primary and secondary sources.
- Implement appropriate tools to accurately study, interpret and apply biblical truth.
- Apply biblical principles for thoughtful and responsible living and service in the world.
- Desire to know, love and serve God.
- Exhibit professional behaviors and competently apply the skills specific to the various areas of study.

Graduate Programs

The Clarks Summit University graduate programs exist for the primary purpose of preparing men and women to be godly servant leaders. By using the Scriptures as the foundation and basis for all instruction, the programs seek to produce graduates who are able to serve effectively in a variety of personal and professional ministries.

Upon successful completion of a master's degree, graduates will have:

- Gained a fuller knowledge of the Bible, the Christian faith, self and other people, and the world around them.
- Deepened their love for and commitment to the authority of the Word of God, dedication to Jesus Christ as Lord, and sense of personal responsibility toward the Great Commission.
- Improved skills in informational literacy, research, and critical thinking to integrate learning and experience in a biblical worldview.
- Developed knowledge and skills needed for various personal and professional ministries.

ACADEMIC CONTEXT

School of Arts & Sciences

The purpose of the School of Arts & Sciences is to develop Christ-centered lifelong learners who are critical, holistic thinkers and effective communicators. Our goal is to prepare students to contribute positively in their areas of expertise as they seek to glorify God. The School of Arts & Sciences includes the Department of Business Administration, Department of English and Communications, Department of Health and Human Performance, Department of Music, Department of Science and Mathematics, and Department of Social Sciences.

As students take classes in the School of Arts & Sciences, they will:

- Develop higher-level reading skills in order to enhance appreciation, critical thinking, and contextual understanding within a framework.
- Access, analyze, and produce quality work in the aesthetic and artistic areas of writing, speech, theatre, and teaching.
- Develop integrative skills in biblical, cultural, literary, and practical understanding.

Department of Health and Human Performance

As students take classes in the Department of Health and Human Performance, they will:

- Demonstrate competency in knowledge and communication of the human body's form, function, and performance.
- Recognize the importance of godly body stewardship and pursue a healthy, active lifestyle.
- Improve in personal and prescriptive motor skills development and health- and skill-related physical fitness.
- Recognize the importance of, and practice professionalism and ethical behavior.
- Learn to be aware of and care for the holistic needs of others.

Department of Music

As students take classes in the Department of Music, they will:

- Develop a broader appreciation for music as an art form and as a unique gift God has given for expression and beauty.
- Connect theology and a philosophy of music with teaching and performing.
- Develop as musicians through academic study, ensemble participation, pedagogical experiences, and performance.

Department of Science and Mathematics

As students take classes in the Department of Science and Mathematics, they will:

- Appreciate the scientific attitude and scientific method.
- Logically and honestly, make interpretations of scientific data.
- Become aware of the structure and functioning of God's creation, including ourselves, society, and the physical and biological world around them.

Department of Social Science

As students take classes in the department of Social Science, they will:

- Understand the present based on a historical knowledge of the past.
- Consider the factors involved the formation of the Judeo-Christian and Greco-Roman traditions.
- Appreciate the value of fine arts, sociology, philosophy, and economics to understanding our culture.
- Be prepared to make independent value judgments through understanding, interpreting, and applying factual material.

School of Education

The purpose of the School of Education at Clarks Summit University is to develop graduates who will be effective in the classroom. The history of Clarks Summit University reflects strong support for the ministry of Christian schools. Along with preparing students who wish to teach within Christian schools, we believe that it is very important to prepare those students who wish to teach within public schools and international schools. Our mission is to provide the knowledge base and skills needed to be a successful teacher whether it is in public or Christian education. The graduates of the School of Education programs will have developed a strong foundation in subject matter knowledge, pedagogical knowledge, and teaching skills.

Upon successful completion of the requirements set by the School of Education, the students will:

- Explain the Christian world view of education.
- Demonstrate an understanding of content and pedagogy in preparing instruction based on academic standards.
- Create a purposeful and equitable classroom environment for learning.
- Through the knowledge of content, pedagogy, and skill, deliver instruction which engages students in learning using a variety of instructional strategies.
- Demonstrate qualities that characterize a Christian professional within and outside of the classroom.

School of Theology

The School of Theology exists to assist the church in the preparation of qualified, committed, thoughtful, spiritual leaders for church and church–related ministries worldwide. This is done in an academic environment in which the school is responsible to help students build the necessary skills to effectively study, interpret, apply, and communicate the Word of God. The school bases that instruction on the verbal, plenary inspiration of the Bible in the original manuscripts and upon its authority in all areas of life. The grammatical, historical, literal method of interpretation is the hermeneutic employed.

As students take classes in the School of Theology, they will:

- Demonstrate a general knowledge of biblical content and an understanding of basic biblical concepts.
- Apply a general knowledge and basic understanding of theology based upon the exegesis of biblical texts.
- Develop competent inductive Bible study skills, using available Bible study tools in a manner consistent with the historical, grammatical and literal (normal) principles of interpretation.
- Demonstrate the skills to perform competent research on biblical and theological issues using primary and secondary sources.
- Comprehend and value the design and intended role of the church in their lives and ministries.
- Understand and compare the basic foundations of major religious movements in the world and articulate the gospel of Jesus Christ in a manner that is clear and understandable to people from any of those religious movements.
- Value and develop the basic character demands essential to qualification for ministry leadership.
- Articulate and apply a clear understanding of the biblical imperative and dynamics involved in helping people engage in aggressive spiritual growth.
- Understand and apply distinctive characteristics and skills demanded of leadership from a thoroughly biblical perspective.
- Articulate and apply biblical principles from which they can build families that meet biblical expectations.
- Communicate the Scriptures in a clear, accurate, and relevant manner.

Department of Bible Exposition

As students take classes in the Department of Bible Exposition, they will:

- Articulate the historical contents of the entire Bible, gaining insight into the construction, purpose, and message of the Bible.
- Demonstrate basic skills of observation, interpretation and application of the text.
- Apply biblical truth in order to become like Jesus Christ.
- Communicate the Bible to others creatively and independently.
- Understand the basics of biblical and systematic theology.
- Integrate the content of other disciplines with theology.
- Articulate and apply the biblical rationale for evangelization of the lost, edification of the believer, pretribulational, premillennial eschatology, personal and ecclesiastical separation, and the biblical distinctives or Baptists.

Department of Ministry Leadership

The Department of Ministry Leadership offers a variety of programs designed to prepare students for career ministry leadership roles both in church—based ministry and in para—church organizations. Each of these programs is built upon the foundation of a set of goals that are essential to any ministry leadership role. Each program then focuses on the skills and competencies essential to a particular ministry role.

As students take classes in the ministry program, they will:

- Comprehend and value the basic character demands essential to qualification for ministry leadership.
- Apply a clear understanding of the biblical imperative and dynamics involved in helping people engage in aggressive spiritual growth.
- Understand and apply distinctive characteristics and skills demanded of leadership from a thoroughly biblical perspective.
- Articulate and apply biblical principles from which they can build families that meet biblical expectations.
- Communicate the Scriptures in a clear, accurate, and relevant manner.

Program of Camping Ministries

This department endeavors to prepare men and women who are passionate about making disciples and who are empowered to serve with excellence in camping and impact ministry venues.

Program of Church Education Ministries

This department trains men and women to teach in the local church. Students are helped to prepare for teaching ministries at home or abroad including Sunday school, children, youth, and adult groups, leadership training, vacation Bible schools and camps. The department helps students understand the principles for effective teaching so they can contribute effectively to the work of the local church.

Program of Intercultural Studies

This department presents the responsibility of every Christian to participate in the Mission of God (Missio Dei) by giving a general knowledge of mission opportunities, and instilling an awareness of mission issues today. ICS courses are designed to equip the student with the methods for understanding God's mission to the nations, the basic principles and the ethics needed for a successful missionary program, exposure to the cultural and language differences in working intercultural, and thoughtful consideration of the needs and programs in modern—day mission work.

Department of Pastoral Ministries

This department prepares men for effective pastoral ministry in local churches. The department purposes to produce graduates who demonstrate a balance of expository skill, spiritual leadership, pastoral care, and evangelistic fervor—all founded upon the clear teachings of Scripture.

Program of Sports and Recreational Ministries

This department endeavors to equip students for effective sports ministries in the local church, para-church organizations, foreign missionary agencies, and sports-related organizations.

Department of Counseling

This department equips students to work in both ministerial and professional venues of counseling. Students are prepared to understand and respond biblically to the heart–felt needs of counselees and are given the necessary foundation for graduate work in the counseling field if they desire to pursue continuing education.

As students take classes in the Department of Counseling, they will:

- Acquire a profound intimacy with and appreciation for the Word of God as Inspired Truth.
- Achieve knowledge of historical and contemporary psychological theories and models of therapeutic intervention, while developing a Biblically-based philosophy of counseling.
- Grow in personal awareness of the work of God in their own lives and in developing lifestyles that are marked by pursuing God.
- Evidence a professional competency in the ethical, compassionate care of people, providing hope in response to individual and cultural needs.

ACADEMIC CORE

UNDERGRADUATE ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

All bachelor's degree programs are made up of two majors, a Bible/Theology major and a professional major, plus a core of general studies and ministry courses totaling a minimum of 120 credits. Associate degree programs have a minimum of 18 credits of Bible and Theology and are a minimum of 60 credits. Students with multiple majors or minors are allowed to double dip—use the same course to meet requirements in more than one major or minor. The maximum number of credits of overlap is six credits.

Arts & Sciences Core (40 credits)

The graduate of Clarks Summit University needs to have a good foundation in general education. Therefore, general education courses comprise a meaningful and vital part of the baccalaureate degree programs. The general studies core courses include*:

- General Psychology (3)
- Speech Communication (3)
- Living Well (1)
- Academic and Research Writing (3)
- Writing Across the Disciplines (3)
- World Religions (3)
- Worldviews: Humanities and Science (3)
- History Core Elective (3)
- Humanities Electives (9)
- Arts & Sciences Electives (6)
- Math or Science Elective (3)

Bible and Theology Major (30 credits minimum)

It is our belief that knowledge of the Scriptures is essential to a proper education. Therefore, all students take a foundational set of Bible and theology courses. The Bible and Theology major consists of a minimum of 30 credits and is overseen by the School of Theology.

- Principles of Bible Study (3)
- Building a Biblical Lifestyle (3)
- Bible Survey (3)
- Theology Survey (3)
- Theological Distinctives (3)
- Senior Seminar (3)
- Biblical Studies Electives (12)

Professional Major

The second major for a bachelor, degree-seeking student is the professional major (see Degree Programs).

^{*} Education students have different core courses varying by program. More information is available from the Registrar's Office or the Undergraduate Teacher Education department.

MINORS

Students may also choose to add minors to their degree program to broaden their studies in an area of interest. All courses are three credits unless noted otherwise.

ASSOCIATE OF ARTS PROGRAMS

Addictions Counseling

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Associate in Arts in Addictions Counseling incudes both foundational biblical counseling courses and specific courses that address the issues of substance and behavioral addictions. Beyond basic instruction in counseling skills, the program has two main focuses: 1) to present a biblical perspective on addictions, habits, and enslavement that relates to both understanding them and helping a person find freedom from them, and 2) to acquaint the student with historical and current models of treatment that are used.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Addictions Counseling program, the student will:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the arena of addictions, habitual thinking and behavior patterns and enslaving choices.
- Apply the historical and current theories and conceptualizations to the treatment of addictions.
- Have formulated a biblical philosophy of the counseling of those struggling with addictions.
- Be prepared to gain employment in addiction treatment facilities and programs.
- Have completed the foundational AA education to pursue a bachelor's and master's degree that can result in certification as an Addictions Counselor.

Bible/Theology—Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This program expands on the primary core Bible and Theology courses that are foundational and required for all Clarks Summit University programs. It is our belief that knowledge of the Scriptures is essential to a proper education. Therefore, all students take a foundational set of Bible and theology courses. The Bible and Theology Associates degree will give students an opportunity to dig deeper in the areas of Bible and theology, while giving them the basic skills needed to communicate that knowledge in an effective manner.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Bible and Theology Associates degree, the student will:

- Demonstrate a general knowledge of biblical content and an understanding of basic biblical concepts.
- Perform competent research on biblical and theological issues using primary and secondary sources.
- Apply biblical truth in order to become like Jesus Christ.
- Effectively communicate the Bible to others.

Business Administration - Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Business AA at Clarks Summit University trains students in a broad-based theoretical and practical business curriculum, culminating in an internship, to enhance their ability to minister locally and globally to believers and the lost. The program values vocational and spiritual excellence, believing both to be an expression of worship to God, and teaches its courses within a biblically-based ethical framework to develop both the students' minds and hearts. Graduates from the program are prepared for careers in for-profit enterprises (small businesses, corporations, or entrepreneurial ventures) as well as nonprofit organizations (community development organizations, Christian ministries, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), local church ministries, etc.).

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Business program, the student will:

- Articulate a biblically informed and holistic view of business and leadership theories and principles in a business-oriented organization.
- Demonstrate professional oral and written communication skills in speaking, listening, writing, and presenting.

Counseling Ministries—Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This program is ideal for students who are primarily interested in the ministry applications of counseling. The Counseling Ministries Associates Degree explores foundational philosophical assumptions as well as practical methodologies of biblical counseling. Students complete courses related to both theory and practice of counseling. Those courses, combined with required Bible and Theology curriculum, equip the student to minister to hurting individuals. The Clarks Summit University Counseling programs emphasize the sufficiency of Scripture in meeting counselee needs.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Counseling Ministries program, the student will:

- Develop a biblical philosophy of counseling
- Understand basic counseling techniques
- Desire to help people deal biblically with problems they face in life

Early Childhood Education

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The purpose of the two-year Early Childhood program is to prepare individuals for ministry roles as early childhood educators in churches, Christian schools, social agencies, homes, pre–school programs, and day care programs. Students will learn the theoretical principles of child development as well as developmentally appropriate practices. Students will be able to recognize and address children's cognitive, personal and moral stages of development as well as address and reach the child, family, school, teacher/caregiver and community as it relates to the education of the whole child. The program provides students with the biblical education and practical experience necessary to work with young children. A student in this program must maintain a GPA of 2.0.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this program, the student will:

- Be aware of social, cultural, historical, and legal issues associated with early childhood education.
- Appreciate the importance of active learning in the content of guided play and direct instructional techniques.
- Know how to provide optimum, developmentally appropriate experiences for children in the early years.
- Successfully apply content knowledge to practicum experiences.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC EDUCATION PROGRAM

PreK-12 Music Education

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The purpose of the PreK-12 undergraduate program in Music Education is to prepare students for careers in various schooling venues. Students will learn the importance of the partnership between learners and their families, schools, teachers, and communities, as it relates to the formation of the whole person.

In this program, students will develop a Biblical worldview and gain practical experience necessary to teach music with professional excellence. Students will leave this program equipped with confidence, pedagogical skills, and musical ability.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of the PreK-12 Music Education Major, students will be able to:

- Prepare unit and lesson plans for classes and ensembles reflecting a pedagogical mastery of musical content.
- Create and maintain an atmosphere among music students that frees them to learn while instilling in them a joy for making music.
- Prepare classes and rehearsals in which objectives, methods, and assessments are in harmony with each other.

Addictions Counseling—Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This major is ideal for students that are primarily interested in the application of counseling to addiction. The Addictions Counseling Major encompasses foundational philosophical assumptions as well as practical methodologies of biblical counseling for substance and behavioral addictions. Students complete courses related to both theory and practice of counseling. Those courses, combined with required Bible and Theology curriculum, equip the student to wisely minister to hurting individuals. The Clarks Summit University Counseling program emphasizes the sufficiency of Scripture in meeting counselee needs.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Biblical counseling is a ministry and a profession. As such, the undergraduate program focuses on the pre-professional knowledge base and skills necessary to minister in counseling settings at this level. While ample opportunities are available for the Clarks Summit University graduate at the baccalaureate level, such opportunities will be pre-professional in nature, including supervision by licensed and/or certified professionals in the field.

Persons desiring to use their counseling skills in an addiction treatment program will find Clarks Summit University's undergraduate preparation very well suited to their needs. The curriculum provides both knowledge-based and skill-building courses to prepare students for effective entry-level addictions counseling.

Upon completion of the Addictions Counseling major, the student will:

- Develop a biblical philosophy of addictions counseling.
- Develop a biblical model of addictions counseling.
- Desire to help people deal biblically with problems they face in life.

Bible and Theology—Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This major is an expansion of our core Bible and Theology major that is foundational and required for all Clarks Summit University programs. It is our belief that knowledge of the Scriptures is essential to a proper education. Therefore, all students take a foundational set of Bible and theology courses. The Bible and Theology major will give students an opportunity for a greater knowledge of the Bible and theology, along with giving them the basic skills needed to communicate that knowledge in an effective manner.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Bible and Theology major, the student will be able to:

- Demonstrate a general knowledge of biblical content and an understanding of basic biblical concepts.
- Be able to articulate a general knowledge and basic understanding of theology based upon the exegesis of biblical texts.
- Competently study the Bible using inductive study methods, and by using available Bible study tools in a manner consistent with the historical, grammatical, and literal (normal) principles of interpretation.
- Perform competent research on biblical and theological issues using primary and secondary sources.
- Apply biblical truth in order to become like Jesus Christ.
- Effectively communicate the Bible to others.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Business Administration program at CSU exists to train students in a broad-based theoretical and practical business curriculum to enhance their ability to minister locally and globally to believers and the lost. The program values vocational and spiritual excellence, believing both to be an expression of worship to God, and teaches its courses within a biblically-based ethical framework to develop both the students' minds and hearts. Graduates from the program are prepared for careers in for-profit enterprises (small businesses, corporations, or entrepreneurial ventures) as well as nonprofit organizations (community development organizations, Christian ministries, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), local church ministries, etc.) Graduates will also be ready to pursue Master-level studies in Business upon completion of the program.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Business Administration major, the student will:

- Articulate a biblically informed and holistic view of business and leadership theories and principles in a business-oriented organization.
- Demonstrate professional oral and written communication skills in speaking, listening, writing, and presenting.
- Develop and implement Christian interpersonal skills in the workplace, including the ability to perform well in a team environment.
- Demonstrate practical and professional skill sets for business settings.
- Identify God-given gifts and talents that can make an effective contribution to the Kingdom of Christ in the global marketplace.

Camping Ministries

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Camping Ministries major is designed to prepare men and women who are passionate about making disciples and who are empowered to serve with excellence in camping and impact ministry venues. This program involves a year of internship in a camp setting; learning camp ministry through an experience based educational approach.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Camping Ministries major, the student will:

- Develop and clearly articulate a solid philosophy and approach to developing a camping ministry based on an understanding of history, various philosophies, and current trends within the outdoor education and camping movements. (Foundations of Camping and Outdoor Education)
- Employ impact ministry environments and dynamics in an effective manner as tools for introducing others to a growing, intimate relationship with their God. (Introduction to Impact Ministry Leadership)
- Demonstrate competency in moving participants toward growth in the context of short-term impact ministry environments such as retreats, resident camps, mission trips, and wilderness programming. (Counseling in Active Learning Environments)
- Investigate, evaluate, and adapt current experience-based learning theories, models and tools for use in facilitating learning for a wide range of students in a variety of environments and experiences. (Foundations of Experience Based Learning)
- Design effective approaches to pursuing learning objectives through a variety of experiences, challenges, and assignments. (Planning for Integrative Learning)
- Formulate a vision for participants' potential development; assess their needs, set learning objectives, and set a strategy for the pursuit of effective learning. (Rec Programming: Vision, Assessment, Design)
- Demonstrate necessary skills and methods for effectively and safely implementing a learning strategy in the context of recreational programming. (Rec Programming: Implementation and Evaluation)
- Perform within an organizational environment in a manner that demonstrates competencies in management and administration pertinent to the role that he/she is preparing to play.

Criminal Justice—Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The criminal justice program at Clarks Summit University is designed to prepare students with the knowledge, skills, and experience necessary for careers in the criminal justice field. The program will prepare students to develop a biblically informed, restorative view of justice, with the goal of having a redemptive, ethical, caring, and service-minded career in the criminal justice field. Within the criminal justice major, students study law enforcement, the courts, and corrections system, along with the foundational disciplines of theology, sociology, and psychology. Moreover, students will apply what they are learning in the classroom through supervised internships and practice.

A major in Criminal Justice prepares students for careers in law enforcement, corrections, court-related positions, and security, as well as for graduate work in focused criminal justice fields.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Criminal Justice major, the student will:

- Articulate a biblical view of justice and restoration in the criminal justice profession.
- Evaluate criminal justice theory, systems, and practices, including the moral and ethical issues in criminal justice, from a biblical worldview
- Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills for use in the criminal justice profession.
- Apply critical thinking skills within the context of the criminal justice profession.
- Demonstrate competence in professional skills, leadership, and service in the criminal justice profession.
- Prepare to pursue graduate studies in criminal justice.

Degree Completion—Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Degree Completion program is designed to facilitate the development of ministry leaders who desire to finish an undergraduate degree and are not yet ready or interested in graduate–level work. Students who have already begun their undergraduate education elsewhere can complete their training through Clarks Summit University.

Students entering the Degree Completion programs must have successfully completed at least 60 semester credits toward a bachelor's degree.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The Degree Completion program meets the needs of students who desire to earn an accredited bachelor's degree, enhance their ministry competency, and have already earned a significant number of undergraduate credits. This program focuses on building competency in biblical understanding and general education in an efficient and cost–effective manner.

Upon completion of the Degree Completion program, the student will:

- Earn an accredited Bachelor of Science degree.
- Possess a solid foundation in biblical studies and ministry application.

Education Ministries

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Education Ministries major prepares students to teach in the local church. Students are helped to prepare for teaching ministries at home or abroad including Sunday school, children, youth, and adult groups, leadership training, vacation Bible schools, and camps. The department helps students understand the principles for effective teaching so they can contribute effectively to the work of the local church.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Education Ministries major, the student will:

- Understand a theology of teaching and demonstrate skills for effective teaching of the Scriptures. (Effective Bible Teaching)
- Articulate a clear philosophy ministry that is founded on a solid understanding of Scriptural priorities, is focused on the particular needs of students, and considers the unique gifts and abilities of a leadership team. (Youth Ministry Philosophy)
- Comprehend basic biblical principles surrounding the administration of a local church education program.
 (Education Ministries of the Church)
- Understand and apply biblical principles related to small groups in ministry. (Small Group Ministry)

Health and Physical Education (Non-Teaching)

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Health and Physical Education (non-teaching) major is designed for undergraduate students wanting to work with individuals of various ages, abilities, and cultures in human movement/performance and physical activity experiences that contribute to their growth and development in non-school settings. Health and Human Performance are dynamic fields, constantly evolving as social trends, demographics, and other factors impact it. Students successfully completing this program would be prepared for employment in fitness/health centers, recreation careers, and therapy-related careers.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this major, the students will:

- Demonstrate critical thinking, communication, and writing skills necessary for the application of this program to the health, human movement/performance and physical needs of society.
- Demonstrate the skills necessary to occupy entry-level positions in health, human movement/performance, and physical activity careers.
- Recognize the stewardship principles needed for a God-honoring life of health, human movement/performance, and physical activity.
- Incorporate the knowledge and skills to plan, implement, and evaluate health, human movement/performance and physical activity programs in non-school settings.
- Learn skills in a variety of sports, games, rhythms/dance, swimming, and outdoor pursuits for their own enjoyment and to share with others.

Integrated Studies—Online

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Clarks Summit University exists for the primary purpose of preparing men and women to pursue selective Christian ministry careers for which the Bible major is foundational or essential. Since not all students are certain of career direction upon entering Clarks Summit University, the Integrated Studies program offers a flexible online degree program that enhances the student's competency and capacity for service in local churches and for preparation to pursue further education at institutions of higher learning.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Integrated Studies program, the student will:

- Demonstrate a deepening love for and commitment to biblical values.
- Possess a basic knowledge of the Bible and theology.
- Be able to articulate a Christian worldview based on the integration of the biblical and general studies curriculum
- Demonstrate knowledge and appreciation of some of the fundamental skills requisite for local church ministry.

Intercultural Studies

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Intercultural Studies major focuses on preparing students with general skills and competencies necessary for effective cross-cultural ministries. Ample electives are available to allow students to pursue a secondary specific skill set in preparation for more specialized forms of cross-cultural ministry. This major also includes a cross-cultural sixweek apprenticeship practicum.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Intercultural Studies major, the student will:

- Understand and appreciate the basic elements of culture and outline an approach for determining how to minister effectively in a new culture. (Missionary Anthropology)
- Identify and adapt to the positives and the perplexities encountered during spoken and written communication in a cross-cultural environment. (Cross Cultural Communications)
- Comprehend how to start, establish and mature a church through its beginning stages. (Church Planting and Church Development)
- Integrate an understanding of Scripture, local church and culture to articulate productive approaches to practical issues that missionaries must deal with. (Missions Seminar)
- Demonstrate readiness to pursue effective cross-cultural ministry. (Missions Apprenticeship)
- Prepare and present effective sermons or Bible lessons using solid principles of biblical exposition. (Expository Preaching, Effective Bible Teaching)
- Prepare and present effective sermons from a variety of biblical genres, using a variety of sermonic styles.

Pastoral Ministries—Seminary Track

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Pastoral Ministries Major-Seminary track is designed for students intending to more fully prepare for pastoral ministry by continuing on to seminary education. The program focus is the same as that of the Pastoral Ministries program but accelerates the student's education through dual enrollment strategies. This program is available to students who demonstrate the academic capacity to handle the increased demands.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Pastoral Ministries Major-Seminary track, the student will

- Prepare and present effective sermons from a variety of biblical genres, using a variety of sermonic styles.
- Develop strategies for leading a congregation in reaching their community with the gospel of Jesus Christ.
- Understand key current issues and provide solid biblical counsel in response to those issues.
- Understand basic pastoral functions and articulate a biblical ministry philosophy for effective leadership in the church

Spring Year 2 (15 credits)

Spring Year 3 (15 credits)

Spring Year 4 (14 credits)

- Comprehend basic biblical principles surrounding the administration of a local church education program.
- Develop a functional use of Koiné Greek.

Specialized Ministries

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Specialized Ministries major includes a core of 42 semester hours of Bible and theology designed to help students gain a basic understanding of the truth. The program also includes 42 hours of general studies course work designed to help students understand the world in which they will be living and ministering that truth. Six hours of foundational ministry coursework are included in the program upon which all specializations are built. The remaining 33 credit hours are available for creating a specialized program of study. This specialization is developed for the student by an academic advisor selected by the director of the program. Advisors are selected based on their familiarity with the particular specialization the student wishes to pursue.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The Specialized Ministries major is designed for the student who is seeking a Bible college education in preparation for a ministry specialization that draws from multiple disciplines or a generalized set of ministry competencies to serve as a foundation for more specific graduate training.

Upon completion of the Specialized Ministries program, the student will:

- Show competence in application of Bible and theology for continued personal growth and for the benefit of others.
- Apply an understanding of their general studies exposure to an understanding of the world within which they seek to minister.
- Exercise basic ministry leadership in the context of their chosen specialization.

Business Administration

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Business Administration program at Clarks Summit University exists to train students in a broad-based theoretical and practical Business curriculum to enhance their ability to minister locally and globally to believers and the lost. The program values vocational and spiritual excellence, believing both to be an expression of worship to God, and teaches its courses within a biblically-based ethical framework to develop both the students' minds and hearts. Graduates from the program are prepared for careers in for-profit enterprises (small businesses, corporations, or entrepreneurial ventures) as well as nonprofit organizations (community development organizations, Christian ministries, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), local church ministries, etc.) Graduates will also be ready to pursue Master-level studies in Business upon completion of the program.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Business Administration major, the student will:

- Articulate a biblically informed and holistic view of business and leadership theories and principles in a business-oriented organization.
- Demonstrate professional oral and written communication skills in speaking, listening, writing, and presenting.
- Develop and implement Christian interpersonal skills in the workplace, including the ability to perform well in a team environment.

The Entrepreneurship Major at Clarks Summit University seeks to assist students who want to study business skills while developing the entrepreneurial mindset and skills needed to succeed in the business world. You will learn real-life skills and your experience will culminate in an internship. The entrepreneurship major values vocational and spiritual excellence, believing both to be an expression of worship to God, and teaches its courses within a biblically-based ethical framework to develop both the students' minds and hearts. Graduates will gain skill sets needed to start small business or nonprofit ventures.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Business Administration major, the student will:

- Articulate a biblically informed and holistic view of business and leadership theories and principles in a business-oriented organization.
- Demonstrate professional oral and written communication skills in speaking, listening, writing, and presenting.
- Develop and implement Christian interpersonal skills in the workplace, including the ability to perform well in a team environment.
- Demonstrate practical and professional skill sets for business settings.
- Identify God-given gifts and talents that can make an effective contribution to the Kingdom of Christ in the global marketplace.

Counseling

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Core courses in Bible and theology as well as counseling and psychology are central to the curriculum of the Counseling major. Specifically, students complete a substantial core of courses in both domains, which equips them to blend the principles of the Word of God with acquired skills in order to be a spiritual encouragement to those in need. Thus, a Bible school graduate with both a biblical studies and counseling background can be a key person in assisting people who experience life difficulties. The Clarks Summit University Counseling program emphasizes the sufficiency of Scripture in meeting counselee needs. In addition to the core course requirements, students may complete a counseling apprenticeship program.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Biblical counseling is a ministry and a profession. As such, the undergraduate program focuses on the pre—professional knowledge base and skills necessary to minister in counseling settings at this level. While ample ministry opportunities are available for the Clarks Summit University graduate at the baccalaureate level, such opportunities will be pre—professional in nature, including supervision by licensed and/or certified professionals in the field.

Persons desiring to use their counseling skills in a local church context will find Clarks Summit University's undergraduate preparation very well suited to their needs. The curriculum provides both knowledge—based and skill—building courses to prepare students for effective lay—level biblical counseling in a local church.

Students interested in pursuing graduate—level training in counseling will find the Counseling major to be excellent preparation for master's degree education. Upon completion of the graduate degree, students are ready to enter counseling at the professional level, including serving as licensed and/or certified counselors.

Upon completion of the Counseling program, the student will:

- Develop a biblical philosophy of counseling.
- Develop a biblical model of counseling.
- Desire to help people deal biblically with issues that they face in life.
- Have learned the interface between biblical principles and natural revelation.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE PROGRAM

Criminal Justice

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The criminal justice program at Clarks Summit University is designed to prepare students with the knowledge, skills, and experience necessary for careers in the criminal justice field. The program will prepare students to develop a biblically informed, restorative view of justice, with the goal of having a redemptive, ethical, caring, and service-minded career in the criminal justice field. Within the criminal justice major, students study law enforcement, the courts, and corrections system, along with the foundational disciplines of theology, sociology, and psychology. Moreover, students will apply what they are learning in the classroom through supervised internships and practice.

A major in Criminal Justice prepares students for careers in law enforcement, corrections, court-related positions, and security, as well as for graduate work in focused criminal justice fields.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Criminal Justice major, the student will:

- Articulate a biblical view of justice and restoration in the criminal justice profession.
- Evaluate criminal justice theory, systems, and practices, including the moral and ethical issues in criminal justice, from a biblical worldview
- Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills for use in the criminal justice profession.
- Apply critical thinking skills within the context of the criminal justice profession.
- Demonstrate competence in professional skills, leadership, and service in the criminal justice profession.
- Prepare to pursue graduate studies in criminal justice.

- Completion of each core subject and pedagogy course with a grade of C or above.
- Met fieldwork competencies as set by Pennsylvania Department of Education.
- Developed competencies specific to the program.
- Satisfactory evaluation by the program advisor.
- Senior portfolio submitted and approved.

This information is found in the education handbooks that are found on the School of Education Hub in Schoology.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Early Childhood/Elementary PreK-4th grade undergraduate major focuses on teaching children from birth to grade four within the home, Christian or public-school systems, international schools, or the pre-school or daycare setting. This program helps future teachers to understand the importance of the interaction between the child, family, school, teacher/care giver and community as it relates to child development. Students are also taught to respect diversity because we are created in God's image. The program provides an understanding of child development and the use of best practices to support and guide present and future development.

The program uses faith as the base for ethical behavior and professionalism. Future teachers also understand the standards for ethical and professional behavior as set by the National Association of the Education of Young Children and the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this major, the student will:

- Demonstrate thorough knowledge of content and pedagogical skills in planning and preparation.
- Establish and maintain a purpose and equitable environment for learning.
- Demonstrate skill in delivering instruction that engages students in learning by using a variety of instructional strategies to meet the needs of diverse learners.
- Demonstrate qualities that characterize a professional person in aspects that occur in and beyond the classroom/building.

PreK-12 Health and Physical Education

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Health & Human Performance (HP) department provides coursework in HPE leading to PreK-12 teacher certification with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for those students pursuing HPE careers, particularly in the school setting. The HPE program, in conjunction with the School of Education, seeks to familiarize all students with issues related to education, contemporary educational theory and practice so that they can be effective in the classroom. The program provides students with a biblical worldview and the practical experience necessary to teach with professional excellence in health and human performance.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this major the students will:

- Develop a strong foundation in subject matter knowledge, pedagogical knowledge and teaching skills.
- Demonstrate the knowledge, skills and values of godly body stewardship.
- Plan and prepare units and lessons that reflect a pedagogical mastery of health and physical education content to meet the needs of diverse learners in various settings.
- Create and maintain a classroom atmosphere that fosters student learning.
- Deliver lessons that reflect appropriate choices of aligned objectives, content, methods and assessment tools.
- Sustain professional behaviors in personal development and practical relationships within the school community.
- Develop the skills necessary for life-long learning, understanding of multi-cultural perspectives, and the use of technology which is important to any educator. This is accomplished through the multidivisional experiences supported by the Bible and the Arts & Sciences' curriculum.

Secondary Education—English

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The purpose of the Secondary Education English program is for students to gain pedagogical and content skills in the field of English as they work toward program completion and certification. Students will prepare in the general education arena in conjunction with English specific skills including grammar, writing, literature, and communication.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this major, the students will:

- Plan and prepare units and lessons that reflect a pedagogical mastery of English content: grammar, writing, speaking, reading and literature.
- Create and maintain a classroom atmosphere that fosters student learning, provides a safe environment, and equips students to be life-long learners of language and communication.
- Deliver lessons that reflect appropriate choices of student objectives, varied teaching methods, and fitting assessment tools such as rubrics, rating scales, achievement tests.
- Sustain professional behaviors in personal development in language, literature, communication, and researchsupported pedagogical practices.
- Sustain practical relationships within a school community, undergirded by ethical integrity.

Secondary Education—Mathematics

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The purpose of the Bachelor Science Degree in Secondary Education—Mathematics is to prepare individuals for careers as mathematics teachers in Christian, public, international, and other private schools. Students will develop a deep understanding of mathematics, its relevance to technology and the sciences, and its relationship to our culture. Students will also develop knowledge of best practices for planning for and teaching secondary mathematics.

Students will learn how to recognize and address adolescents' cognitive, personal, and moral stages of development as well as how to construct classroom materials to meet various learning styles. The student will also learn the importance of the partnership between the adolescent, family, school, teacher, and community as it relates to educating the whole adolescent.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this major, the students will:

- Develop a deep understanding of mathematics beyond what they will be expected to teach.
- Be able to make students aware of the role of mathematics in our culture and its importance to technology, natural science, and social science.
- Be able to plan and carry out a program of teaching mathematics to students of varying abilities and backgrounds.
- Be able to assess student learning through a variety of methods and set up a classroom atmosphere conducive to learning.
- Recognize learning disabilities and be able to appropriate measures to help students overcome them.

Secondary Education—Social Studies

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The purpose of the Secondary Social Studies undergraduate program is to prepare individuals for careers as secondary educators in Christian, public, international and other private schools. Students will learn the theoretical principles of adolescent development as well as developmentally appropriate teaching methods for Social Studies. Using their growing knowledge of adolescent development; students will learn appropriate and effective teaching methods for the social studies components. These methods will seek to reach all learning styles. The student will learn the importance of the partnership between the adolescent, family, school, teacher and community as it relates to the educating of the whole adolescent. The program provides students with a biblical world—view and the practical experience necessary to teach with professional excellence the various subjects comprising social studies.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this major, the students will:

- Plan and prepare units and lessons that reflect a pedagogical mastery of social studies content.
- Create and maintain a classroom atmosphere that fosters student learning, provides a safe environment, and equips students to be life—long learners

MASTER OF ARTS PROGRAMS

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Master of Arts (M.A.) is an online degree that is designed to prepare students for personal and professional ministry opportunities. It is designed to assist lay people or ministry professionals who want to grow deeper spiritually and minister more effectively.

Each course demands interaction and collaboration with instructors and classmates as well as relevant, real-life assignments. Students must complete a 15-credit hour core of biblical, theological, and communications courses. In addition, each student chooses 15 credit hours of elective courses designed to enhance their tools and skills for ministry. Elective courses allow the opportunity for students to focus on specific areas of concentration such as Bible, theology, counseling, literature or organizational leadership. Association of Baptists for World Evangelism missionaries may use their CEIM training to fill the elective portion of the program requirements.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the M.A. program, the student will:

- Develop and value a biblical worldview as compared to other worldviews in today's culture.
- Learn a method for interpreting the message of the Bible as it relates to doctrine.
- Recognize the nature and mission of the Church in the world today.
- Apply competent, effective ministry strategies in their spheres of influence.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The M.A. degree requires 30 credit hours comprised of ten three—credit hour courses. All credits may be earned through online study. Classes are offered in eight-week sessions beginning each January, March, May, August and October.

The program is divided into two main parts—required and elective areas. There are two required core areas: Bible, Theology & Interpretation, and Communications. You must select four courses in the Bible/Theology area and one course in Communications. Communications courses include those graduate courses connected with the presentation of biblical text: teaching, preaching, and linguistics.

In addition to online courses, students may complete the requirements through experience, on–campus, or other Clarks Summit University distance learning courses. The program can be completed in as little as two years; however, a student is permitted a maximum of six years to complete the program.

Bible Concentration

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Master of Arts - Bible concentration will give students an opportunity to build a biblical worldview that helps them to better understand God and His Word, and how that knowledge interfaces with the world they live in. From that biblical worldview, they will develop a deeper knowledge of the Bible and theology, and their place of service in the Church and world. Students must complete a 15-credit hour core of biblical, theological, and communications courses. In addition, each student chooses 15-credit hours of elective courses designed to enhance their tools and skills for ministry.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the M.A. Bible Concentration, the student will:

- Articulate a general knowledge of the Bible and a basic understanding of theology based upon the exegesis of biblical texts.
- Develop and value a biblical worldview as compared to other worldviews in today's culture.
- Apply biblical truth in order to become like Jesus Christ.
- Effectively communicate the Bible to others.
- Practice competent, effective ministry strategies in spheres of influence in the Church and in the world.

Counseling Concentration

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Master of Arts—Counseling program provides foundational exposure to a variety of topics of value to those seeking to better understand people and to grow in awareness of how God's Word applies to healthy living as well as the resolution of human struggles. These studies equip students to provide wise biblical counsel in a wide range of roles, whether within the church or in positions outside the church. The counseling concentration prepares graduates to minister in lay counseling positions. It is not designed for those intending to pursue licensure as professional counselors.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Counseling program, the graduate will be able to:

- Articulate a biblical world—and life—view as it relates to counseling philosophy and methodology.
- Describe how healthy human development unfolds.
- Facilitate healthy patterns of communication in relationships.
- Identify the wide range of patterns of suffering that occur in this broken world.
- Evaluate gifts, talents and sense of calling.
- Differentiate between traditional models of helping and a biblical view of the change process.
- Develop a repertoire of basic counseling skills.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Elective course options are listed under the Master of Science in Counseling program. Students desiring to work toward the M.S.C. degree after the M.A. must work closely with an advisor immediately upon matriculation in the M.A. program to ensure courses are sequenced properly.

^{*} Students with a strong theology background may substitute TH511 How to Develop a Biblical Worldview.

Integrated Studies Concentration

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

This concentration in the Master of Arts degree allows the student to tailor his course to his future plans, allowing the student to better fulfill his future ministry goals.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the M.A. Integrated Studies, the student will:

- Demonstrate a deepening love for and commitment to biblical values.
- Possess a basic knowledge of the Bible and theology.
- Be able to articulate a Christian worldview based on the integration of the biblical and general studies curriculum.
- Demonstrate knowledge and appreciation of some of the fundamental skills requisite for local church ministry.

Literature Concentration

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Recognizing the need to combine scholarly rigor with the challenge of biblical and critical thinking, the focus of this program is to develop students' skills in literary content and criticism.

Students will develop a literal, grammatical, historical approach to literary interpretation, they will engage in grounding literary texts within the literal hermeneutic, and they will form an understanding of the issues in cultural history and literary genre.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The Literature program provides training for the student for further education in graduate programs or for study in an area of specific interest.

Upon completion of the Literature program, the student will:

- Think, write, and speak clearly and effectively.
- Read and interpret literature literally, grammatically, contextually, and historically.
- Demonstrate information literacy skills that will enable them to retrieve, evaluate, and synthesize information for the development of a thesis.

Organizational Leadership Concentration

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Master of Arts - Organizational Leadership concentration is a unique program that will enhance the students' abilities in a wide range of ministry roles. Students must complete the 15-credit hour core of biblical, theological, and communications courses. In addition, students will receive 15-credit hours of practical, mentored training courses through Eleven:6, gaining helpful tools to use in ministry while strengthening the students' abilities to successfully lead an organization.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the M.A. Organizational Leadership Concentration, the student will:

- Demonstrate how a biblical worldview influences leadership thought and practice

MASTER OF ARTS IN LITERATURE PROGRAM

Literature

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Clarks Summit University's 33-credit online Master of Arts in Literature degree program will powerfully develop your ability to understand, evaluate and use literature in your life and ministry. You will study and learn from literature with greater thoroughness and intensity. Your capacity for study will vastly broaden your skills and career options. Your critical thinking will expand through your application of deeper biblical interpretation, letting you use greater analytical and hermeneutical skills in literary content and criticism.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Literature program, the student will:

- Use communication skills to think, write, and speak clearly and effectively about worldviews through literary analysis.
- Read and interpret literature literally, grammatically and historically.
- Demonstrate critical thinking skills to recognize and evaluate literature and the perspective from which it is written, assessing its contribution to critical thought.
- Use information literacy skills to retrieve, evaluate and synthesize information for the development of a thesis.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

33 credits • All courses are three credits unless noted otherwise

For the degree of Master of Arts in Literature, students must complete 33 credits of coursework, which includes four core courses, two required Bible courses and four elective literature courses. In the final term, students will work through the process of beginning their thesis and will take the writing seminar: Advanced Expository and Criticism. MA students must successfully complete a master's thesis in the context of one of their elective courses. This is the culminating experience of their program; students must register and choose a thesis adviser.

MASTER OF EDUCATION PROGRAMS

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Master of Education (M.Ed.) program is designed to meet the professional needs of educators who serve or are preparing to serve in Christian, international, other private or public schools. Commitment to biblical principles and a biblical world life view marks the perspectives from which all of this program's courses are presented. It is our goal that our graduates will be able to relate these principles to their varied educational ministries.

- Educational Administration
- Curriculum and Instruction

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The Master of Education provides graduate studies to enhance the skill sets of classroom teachers, reading specialists, curriculum and instruction supervisors, coaches, and school administrators. The program emphasizes theory, pedagogy, and research skills to the extent that a graduate will have the basis for pursuing postgraduate studies.

At the completion of this program, the student will be able to:

- Adopt and apply a biblical world life view as it relates to educational philosophy, theory, and methodology.
- Demonstrate competency in applying theory and research through best practice to a chosen area of study.
- Develop leadership skills appropriate to concentrated area of study.
- Develop theoretically grounded practitioners who are able to contribute to the spiritual and educational missions of their schools.
- Apply research to their educational endeavors as well as provide opportunities to make original contributions to knowledge in education.

COURSE OFFERINGS

Courses are designed to meet the needs of believing educators and are offered online in regular sessions throughout the year and on campus in summer school modules. Courses are scheduled on a rotating basis to support degree completion schedules. All core courses and concentration courses within each discipline can be completed by distance learning. The program can be completed in three years. The Capstone Project can be completed within those three years. A maximum of six years is permitted to complete the program without the student petitioning the Dean of Education for an extension.

ADMISSION AND MATRICULATION

Admission to the University does not imply approval to candidacy for a master's degree. To be eligible, the student must:

- File an application for admission with the Admissions Office.
- Establish a program of study (including a timetable for degree completion) in conjunction with a faculty advisor and approved by the Dean of Education.
- Meet all prerequisites required by the School of Education—Graduate Studies (i.e., foundational course work competencies).

CAPSTONE PROJECT—ED591

The Capstone Project is intended to provide students with an opportunity to demonstrate the acquisition of research or writing skills, to show their mastery of course work, or to extend the knowledge acquired in prior courses. The Capstone Project must be completed prior to graduation.

Educational Administration Concentration

CONCENTRATION PURPOSE

This program equips educators for positions in educational administration. Preparation for a variety of functions required of school leaders, with an emphasis on Christian schools, will be given.

CONCENTRATION OBJECTIVES

On completion of the Educational Administration concentration, the graduate will be able to:

- Articulate a Christian philosophy of education.
- Apply biblical principles to his/her role as an educational leader.
- Plan and develop school curricula which present a biblical worldview, develop a plan for instructional supervisions and provide for the assessment of learning.
- Supervise the faculty and staff including evaluation of instruction and the development of personal and professional growth.
- Manage the daily operation of a school including records, finances, reports, and schedules.
- Develop school environments which facilitate the development of spiritual growth and moral character of teachers and students.
- Develop school policies and procedures that are in keeping with biblical principles, educational research, and school law.
- Plan for effective public relations and development program for a school.

Curriculum and Instruction Concentration

CONCENTRATION PURPOSE

This program is designed to equip Christian educators to be curriculum and instructional writers and supervisors. Preparation will provide the educator with the necessary tools to develop and implement age—appropriate curriculum consistent with a Christian philosophy of education.

CONCENTRATION OBJECTIVES

On completion of the Curriculum and Instruction concentration, the graduate will be able to:

- Articulate a Christian philosophy of education.
- Develop teaching techniques that encourage biblical analysis and critical thinking.
- Plan and develop a school curriculum that presents a biblical worldview and provides for the assessment of learning.
- Utilize sound instructional principles, methods, and skills effectively in teaching students with a variety of learning styles and diverse needs.
- Develop a plan of instructional supervision for a school.
- Understand the implications of contemporary issues in education as expressed in current research.
- Establish relationships with faculty and students that utilize biblical principles of discipline and discipleship to facilitate spiritual growth.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN COUNSELING PROGRAM

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Master of Science in Counseling (M.S.C.) degree prepares students for career opportunities in professional, entry-level positions that require state licensure. The M.S.C. program emphasizes a biblical counseling model while equipping students for state licensure or doctoral work in the fields of counseling or psychology.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the Master of Science in Counseling program students will be able to:

- Articulate a biblical worldview and life—view as it relates to counseling philosophy and methodology.
- Exhibit a knowledge base and skills for entry-level positions as counselors in a variety of settings and with diverse populations.
- Demonstrate advanced knowledge and skills, needed in the development of their counseling abilities.
- Evidence an academic foundation with which they may pursue doctoral studies or certification as professional counselors.
- Use their understanding of and ability to do research to write professionally on a research topic.
- Demonstrate personal awareness and/or growth in psycho-social and spiritual development.

COURSE DELIVERY

The M.S.C. degree can be completed in both on-campus and online formats. Either delivery methods require the completion of three-week long campus-based module courses. Residential courses fall into the normal semester structure and include digital component. Online courses are eight weeks long and delivered in five annual sessions—two in the fall, two in the spring, and one during the summer.

After completing these courses, the student must pass an objective comprehensive exam and an oral exam, and then may progress to their final internship. A maximum of seven years is permitted to complete the program without petitioning for an extension. Note: Students entering the program on provisional status will take longer to complete their studies, depending on their pace in fulfilling the prerequisite competencies.

DEGREE CANDIDACY

After completing 18 graduate credits, students fully matriculated into the M.S.C. program will apply for degree candidacy. The core counseling faculty will make objective and subjective assessments of the students' potential for academic success in the graduate program. Students must also demonstrate appropriate character and a potential for ministry success in the counseling field. Objective bases for admission to candidacy include establishing a proposed plan of study (including a timetable for degree completion), possessing a current GPA of at least 3.0, and having satisfied all foundational competency criteria. An interview with students' advisors may also be required.

COMPREHENSIVE FINAL EXAMS

The comprehensive examinations consist of a written exam and an oral exam, as explained in the following paragraphs.

Written Examination

The written examination consists of multiple—choice questions over the course material from the required professional counseling courses. The examination will be preparatory in function and similar in nature to the National Board of Certified Counselors' (NBCC) National Certification Examination (NCE).

This examination may be taken when all required course work has been completed with the exception of the internship. The student's enrollment GPA must be at least a 3.0 at the time of the examination. The written portion of the comprehensive examination is administered by appointment with the Program Director. Students must schedule their examination at least one month prior to the date when they wish to take it, and a proctor will be required.

Failure to pass the objective examination with a score of 70 percent or better overall will require a retake of the entire examination or the individual sections in which the score fell below 70 percent. Two opportunities to retake the examination and meet the passing standard are permitted.

Oral Examination

The oral section of the examination is administered by at least two faculty members and reviews the major tenets from the required biblical counseling courses in the M.S.C. curriculum as well as practicum experience. Emphasis in the oral examination is given to philosophy and methodology in counseling as presented in the required biblical counseling courses. At the completion of the exam, the student will receive feedback on their performance along with recommendations for continued growth.

In order to arrange to take the oral exam, the student should contact the Program Director well in advance of the date desired for the exam. Permission to take this exam is dependent upon all course work being successfully completed, with the exception of the internship, and successful completion of the written section of the comprehensive examination. Students may not begin internship until both the written and oral exam have been successfully completed.

Failure to pass the oral examination will require a retake of the oral exam. Remedial assistance is recommended and will be arranged with the faculty advisor.

In an unusual circumstance, a student may fail the oral examination a second time. When this occurs, the Counseling faculty will consider such factors as mitigating circumstances, motivation, attitude, and preparation methods, and the student may be granted a third and final attempt. There are no further appeals available should the oral examination be failed the third time.

SUPERVISED PRACTICUM AND INTERNSHIP

All students must complete the supervised practicum and internship requirements with a grade of "B" or higher. A handbook describing the specific requirements for this component of the M.S.C. program may be obtained from the Clinical Supervisor.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

NUMBERING

Each course in the curriculum is identified by a course number which is comprised of letters and three numbers. The initial letters specify the department (or academic area), while the numbers and any additional letters distinguish the courses offered by that department.

The first number indicates the classification of students for whom a course is normally intended:

100s—for freshmen students 200s—for sophomore students

300s—for junior students

400s—for senior students

500 and higher—graduate level

CREDIT VALUES

The credit value of each course is identified in bold type following the course title.

A student who is granted transfer credit for part of a course may be permitted by the appropriate faculty member to complete the requirement of that course by enrolling for the portion for which he/she has no transferable credit. In each case, the faculty member and the registrar will arrange the credit value assigned and an appropriate course title.

PREREQUISITES

The requirements, if any, for admission to a particular course, follow the course description. For example, under LA401 Greek III, the prerequisite given is LA302 Greek II, which must be completed before the student may enroll in LA401

CANCELLATIONS

The University reserves the right to cancel any scheduled course for which low enrollment does not justify organization of a class.

HS402 Health Science Application II

2 credits

This course is designed to help the student to continue to grow in their understanding of the professional health care fields of Athletic Training, Physical Therapy and other related fields. In the course, students will have the opportunity to do hands on health care professional observations and simple treatment related activities. Moreover, students will develop a foundational knowledge of the clinical orthopedic assessment processes used daily in the professions of Athletic Training, Physical Therapy and related fields.

Language

LA301/302 Greek I and II

4 credits

These courses are designed to begin teaching the fundamentals of biblical (koine) Greek to students desiring to be able to read and study from the Greek New Testament. Prerequisite for LA302: LA301

LA401 Greek III 3 credits

This course will build upon the skills developed in LA301 and LA302. Students will be introduced to Greek syntax and will expand their Greek vocabulary. Passages from the New Testament will be used to increase students' translation and parsing speed and to demonstrate how the syntactical principles apply to proper interpretation. Prerequisite: LA302

LA402 New Testament Greek Exegesis

3 credits

This course builds upon the skills developed from LA301, LA302, and LA401 as students translate, parse, and exegete their way through the New Testament. Word study tools will be employed as students complete an exegetical paper of a passage from the New Testament. This course is designed to prepare students for Greek on a seminary level or for the entry–level pastorate. Prerequisite: LA401

LA490 Independent Study in New Testament Greek

1. 2. or 3 credits

This course is an independent study in New Testament Greek designed to give the student practice in translation, parsing, syntax, and exegesis. Paper required. Prerequisite: LA401

Literature

LI201C World Literature I

3 credits

This course presents a chronological study of great literary works of Western culture from the ancient classics through the Renaissance. This is a writing–intensive course that requires reading, discussion, writing, and critical thinking. It will include analysis of literary techniques, themes, and literary genre presented by great authors. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI202B World Literature II

3 credits

This course includes the study of great masterpieces of world literature from the seventeenth century through the Post-modern period. It examines literary approaches included within Neoclassicism, Romanticism, Realism, Naturalism, Modernism, and Post-modernism. This is a writing-intensive course that requires reading, discussion, writing, and critical thinking. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI203 Survey of Biblical Themes in Literature

3 credits

This course is designed to trace biblical themes, motifs, and allusions in the literature of western civilization as they emerged after the Reformation. Specific attention will be given to the authors whose works reflect themes found in Scripture regarding the fall, salvation, and sanctification of man. This is a writing–intensive course that requires reading, discussion, writing, and critical thinking. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI204 Introduction to Poetry

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the language and craft of the poet. It will examine the ability of poetry to appeal to the reader's intelligence, imagination, and senses. This writing–intensive course will help students look at a poem closely, offer vocabulary to express what poems means, and provides students with opportunities for critical analysis and creative expression. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI211A British Literature I

3 credits

This course presents a chronological survey of literature and primary sources presented through the historical contexts of Medieval England through the Restoration and early eighteenth–century periods. This course will enable students to examine and evaluate the historical and contemporary significance of the major works of each era. This is a writing–intensive course that requires reading, discussion, and critical thinking. The influence of British literature upon Modern thought will be explored. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI212A British Literature II

3 credits

This course presents a chronological survey of nineteenth–century through mid/late twentieth–century British literature emphasizing the cultural values, moral standards, and philosophies of life during the Romantic, Victorian, and Modern periods of history and, therefore, of literary and cultural development. Examination and evaluation of literary criticism for works and genres of these eras will be explored. The writing component will deal with literary analysis and criticism of works studied. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI221C American Literature I

3 credits

This course provides a chronological, historically relevant, thematic study of the social, political, philosophical, and religious ideas that sparked the poetic imagination of the early American writer. This is a writing–intensive course that requires reading, discussion, writing, and critical thinking. It reviews the development of American thought as it is revealed in the great works of American literature from the Puritan period to the Civil War (1600–1850). Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI222C American Literature II

3 credits

This course provides a thematic survey of the three major literary movements that have occurred since the Civil War: Realism, Modernism, and Postmodernism. This is a writing–intensive course that requires reading, discussion, and critical thinking. The development of American thought as it is revealed in the great works of American literature from the Civil War to the present will be reviewed. Readings will center on primary works, and writings will predominantly consist of literary analysis. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI303 Studies in Dramatic Literature

3 credits

This course traces the development of dramatic literature from the classical Greek period through contemporary times. This reading—intensive course requires discussion, writing, and project work. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI304 The Short Story

3 credits

This course is designed to study the characteristics and influence of the short story as a modern literary genre. The emphasis will be on the five elements: conflict, plot, characterization, theme, and symbolism/irony. Modern short stories will be studied, and the historical development of this genre in America and Europe will be traced. This is a writing—intensive course that requires reading, discussion, writing, and critical thinking. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI309 Children's Literature

3 credits

This course is designed to acquaint prospective teachers, potential writers, and students of literature PreK-4th grade with the classic and current literature appropriate for children. This course is designed to cover the various genre found within children's literature as well as the criteria used to determine the quality of the texts.

LI331 Selected Works of Shakespeare

3 credits

This writing–intensive course will emphasize the interpretation of Shakespeare's plays content, style, and characterization. Writings will consist predominantly of literary analysis. The course will seek to help the student develop an understanding of the themes and applications of these classics. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI341 Foundations of Literary Criticism

3 credits

This course in literary criticism deals with the philosophy, systems, and patterns by which literature is studied. The focus of the course is to understand how to work with literary text within its literal, grammatical, and cultural/historical contexts in order to determine authorial intent. Works that lay the foundation for literary criticism will be examined, and several stellar literary texts will be evaluated. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI401 Themes in Adolescent Literature and Film

3 credits

This reading–intensive course is designed to acquaint prospective teachers of English, potential writers, and others who work with youth with the classic and current film of literature appropriate for the needs and capabilities of junior and early high school students. This course is designed to trace the literary themes of books written for and about adolescents. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI402 Studies in the Novel

3 credit

This course traces the development of the novel as a literary genre from its 17th–18th–century inception to the present. This reading–intensive course will track the changes in the areas of plot structure, characterization, and ethical appeal. The position of the novel in literary tradition, the purpose of the novel as a genre, and the power of the novel form will be discussed. Prerequisite: EN103, EN105, or LI210

LI490 Independent Study in Literature

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course is a program of independent study open to students interested in areas not covered by current course offerings. Areas of concentration and other details may be worked out between the student and the instructor. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor and the department chair

LI495 Academic Assistant in Literature

3 credits

This seminar will provide qualified candidates an opportunity to work closely with a mentoring professor in the field of the student's study.

LI510 Puritan Writings of American Authors

3 credits

This course will trace the writings of American Puritans in sermon, poetry, devotional, and treatise. Its focus will be to seek out the personal stance of these authors (Bradford, Winthrop, Bradstreet, Taylor, I. Mather, C. Mather, Williams Edwards, and Brainard) on God and man's relationships to Him. It is designed to seek out the paradoxes, pains, and praises of the spiritual life as recorded in their writings. How their writings influenced American thought will provide the class's culminating discussion.

LI512 Principles of Literary Criticism

3 credits

This course in literary criticism deals with the philosophies, systems, and patterns by which literature is studied. The focus of the course is to understand how to work with literary text within its literal, grammatical, cultural/ historical context in order to determine authorial intent. Works that lay the foundation for literary criticism will be examined and several stellar literary texts will be evaluated.

LI515 Studies in American Romanticism and Transcendentalism

3 credits

This course traces the development of the literature of American Romanticism and Transcendentalism and seeks to acquaint students primarily with the essays, short stories and novels within this period. An important focus of this class will be an exploration of how these essays, short stories and novels were shaped by the social, cultural, and historical forces characterizing the literary periods associated with them. We will focus on examining the interaction between the literature and history, seeing how authors have responded to important historical events and how they have contributed to mayor social movements.

LI517 Narrative Genre

3 credits

This course explores the history and structure of the main genres of narrative literature: the novel, the short story, the poem, and the play. It seeks out historical context, structure, rhetorical strategy, grammar, and thematic intent found in selections from each genre.

LI518 Dramatic Genre

3 credits

This course explores the history and structure of main genres of dramatic literature: tragic plays, comedic plays, and dramatic poetry. It seeks out historical context, structure, rhetorical strategy, and thematic intent found in the selections from each type of dramatic literature.

LI520 Readings in American Realism and Naturalism

3 credits

This course traces the development of the literature of American Realism and Naturalism and seeks to acquaint students primarily with short stories and novels within this period. An important focus of this class will be an exploration of how these short stories and novels were shaped by the social, cultural, and historical forces characterizing the literary periods associated with them. We will focus on examining the interaction between the literature and history, seeing how authors have responded to important historical events and how they have contributed to major social movements.

LI525 Readings in Modern American Thought

3 credits

This readings course is designed to study works of American literature that have influence post 1950. This course will review poetry, short stories, plays, and/or novels that contribute to American thought.

LI530 The American Novel

3 credits

This course traces the American novel as a literary genre from its 17-18th century inception to the present. This course will trace the changes that ensued in this literary form in the areas of plot structure, characterization, and ethical appeal. The position of the novel in American literary tradition, the purpose of the American novel as a genre, and the power of the novel form will be discussed.

LI535 Thesis in American Literary Studies

3 credits

This thesis project is designed for the student, upon advisor approval, to thoroughly study one-time arena or author pivotal to American literary thought. A thesis will be written that generates an idea or influence found in the time arena of thoughts or author's works.

Literacy

LY312 Literacy Development and Instruction in Core Secondary Courses

3 credits

A course designed to teach a secondary teacher to assist secondary students in content subject courses in reading, writing, understanding and learning content material. Students will learn how to prepared secondary students for reading, assist them through the reading of content material as well as learning how to support them in the reflection of the reading completed. Students will also learn how to use writing and technology to support the learning of content material.

Mathematics

MA102 College Math I

3 credits

This is the first course in a two–course sequence designed to develop, review, strengthen, and extend basic concepts and skills in mathematics. The course begins with an introduction to problem solving and proceeds through elementary set theory, logic, number systems and bases, an examination of the basic arithmetic operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of integers and fractions, number theory, real numbers and beginning algebra. Future K–4 teachers will develop a deeper understanding of the mathematical topics they will be teaching in their own classrooms.

MA104 College Math II

3 credits

This is the second course in a two–course sequence. The topics covered include concepts from elementary algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and statistics. The student will demonstrate an ability to solve equations in algebra. Students will demonstrate understanding of plane and three-dimensional geometry, trigonometry of both right and non–right triangles, and of statistics through correlation and linear regression.

MA204 Discrete Mathematics

3 credits

This course is an introduction to discrete mathematics. The student will demonstrate an understanding of topics including but not limited to the following: counting using combinations and permutations, Pascal's Triangle, the Binomial Theorem, and elementary set theory, topics in graph theory, basic logic and mathematical reasoning. Connections with secondary school mathematics will be presented. Prerequisite: Demonstrated skills in algebra.

MA206 Linear Algebra

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic ideas of linear algebra. The student will develop an understanding of topics including but not limited to systems of linear equations, matrices and determinants, vector spaces, linear transformations, and transformation geometry. Connections with secondary school mathematics will be presented. Use of technology will be integrated with instruction. Prerequisite: MA204 or consent of the department.

MA112 Pre-Calculus

3 credits

This course is designed to prepare students for calculus. It investigates fundamentals of analytic geometry, conic sections, and functions: polynomial, rational, exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions.

MA212 Calculus I 3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic concepts of calculus. The student will develop an understanding of topics such as limits, continuity, finding derivatives of functions, applications of derivatives to science, economics, and other areas. Use of technology is integrated in the instruction. Prerequisite: MA112 or consent of Department.

MA213 Calculus II 3 credits

A continuation and extension of the concepts studied in MA212. The student will show an understanding of topics such as techniques of integration, applications of the definite integral to geometry and physics, logarithms and exponential functions, and use of technology. Prerequisite: MA212

MA216 Introduction to Statistics

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic concepts and methods of statistics. Students will acquire an understanding of such topics as methods of random sampling, measures of central tendency and dispersion of data, histograms, binomial and normal distributions, linear regression and correlation, confidence intervals, and hypothesis tests for means and proportions. The student will also learn how to use web based statistical calculators.

MA303 College Geometry

3 credits

This course is an introduction to geometry. The student will develop an understanding of topics including but not limited to Euclidean Geometry, constructions, proof in geometry, non–Euclidean geometries and use of technology. Prerequisite: MA212 and MA204

MA312 Calculus III 3 credits

This course is a continuation of MA212 and MA213. The student will develop an understanding of topics such as improper integrals, indeterminate forms, infinite series and power series, polar coordinates, three-dimensional geometry, vector-valued functions, partial derivatives, multiple integrals. Prerequisite: MA 213

MA316 Probability and Statistics

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic concepts and methods of probability and statistics. The student will show an understanding of topics such as computing probabilities of events, probability distributions, Bayes' Theorem, measures of central tendency, linear regression and correlation. Use of technology is integrated with instruction. Prerequisite: MA312

MA322 Number Theory

3 credits

This course is an introduction to number theory and mathematical thinking. The student will develop an understanding of topics including but not limited to divisibility, greatest common divisor and least common multiple, the Euclidean Algorithm, modular arithmetic, Fundamental Theorem of Arithmetic, rational and irrational numbers, and connections with secondary mathematics. The student will also demonstrate an understanding of elementary logic, and conjecture and proof in mathematics. Connections with secondary school mathematics will be presented. Prerequisite: MA204 or consent of Department.

MA401 Introductory Analysis

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic concepts of mathematical analysis, or "why calculus works". The student will demonstrate an understanding of topics such as the structure of the real number system, proofs of various limit theorems, continuity and differentiation of functions of a real variable, the Riemann Integral, and sequences and series. Connections with secondary school mathematics will be presented. Prerequisite: MA204 and MA312 or consent of the department

MA402 Abstract Algebra

3 credits

This course is an introduction to algebraic structures. The student will develop an understanding of topics such as rings, integral domains, fields, ideals, polynomials, and groups. Connections with secondary school mathematics will be presented. Prerequisites: MA204 or consent of the department

MA404 Mathematical Seminar

3 credits

This course is a capstone course for the Mathematics Education program. Topics relevant to the secondary school mathematics curriculum will be examined from an advanced point of view. Topics will be drawn from Algebra, Geometry, Calculus, Probability and Statistics, and the History of Mathematics. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing in a mathematics program or consent of department.

MA490 Independent Study in Math

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course is a semi–independent study of a topic of interest to the student which is not covered in the regular courses. Prerequisite: Junior or senior standing in a mathematics program or consent of the department.

Media

ME210 Introduction to Digital Photography

3 credits

This course provides a foundational overview of various photography functions and competencies. The course will review various avenues of subject's matter and demonstrate how to touch-up, post, publish, and potentially sell the photos online. Lastly, the course will end with an art show displaying the student's top 2-3 photos with an opportunity for the students, faculty, staff, constituents, and community to purchase them.

ME308 Graphic Design

3 credits

This course teaches the student to effectively communicate through a combination of text and images. Using the latest design software, student will learn the foundations of design, composition and layout. Disciplines covered include graphic design for web and print and digital photography and processing.

ME311 Video Production

3 credits

This course provides a comprehensive foundation to the major aspects and processes of professional digital video production including pre-production, producing, directing, camera, lighting and sound recording.

ME322 Digital Post-Production

3 credits

This course allows students to learn non-linear digital video and multimedia post-production techniques and workflow. Areas covered include Video editing, Motion graphics, Sound mixing, file management and encoding for web delivery.

ME341 Media Practicum I

1 credit

This course provides the student with practical, hands-on experience in media production. Specific details of the practicum will be determined based on the student's experiences and educational needs.

ME342 Media Practicum II

1 credit

This course provides the student with advanced practical, hands-on experience in media production. Specific details of the practicum will be determined based on the student's experiences and educational needs.

ME414 Social Media Content Creation

3 credits

This course will enable students to explore the social media landscape and create engaging, thought-provoking content, utilizing Instagram Vine, You Tube, Vimeo, and other platforms.

ME412 Live-Presentation Technology

3 credits

This course covers the latest trends and processes in stage presentation for churches, conferences, education and music venues. This is a hands-on course that covers stage lighting, sound reinforcement, video projection, multi-camera video support and tech booth operation.

ME421 Scriptwriting

3 credits

This course explores the screen writers craft including story, character development, writing dialogue, the draft process, treatment and proposals. Scriptwriting for film, television, documentary, commercials, and playwriting will be covered.

Missions

MI240 Understanding Islam

2 credits

This introductory course is designed to provide the basic information about Islam. It will cover Islamic beliefs and practices, social and political issues as set forth in the Qur'an, and the saying of the prophet Muhammad Hadith.

MI301 Missionary Anthropology

3 credits

A study of culture, customs, moral codes, social institutions, languages, arts, religions, and industries of the world's peoples in order to give the student a better understanding (or an attraction for) along with skills and abilities to reach the people with whom he/she will labor.

MI302 Cross–Cultural Communication

3 credits

This course is a study of positives and perplexities encountered during spoken and written communication where cultural and/or linguistic boundaries must be crossed.

MI311 Intercultural Ministry Philosophy

3 credits

This course is designed to help students to establish a biblical foundational philosophy for ministering in intercultural environments and to introduce students to basic skills and competencies necessary for effective ministry in any culture. Emphasis is placed on understanding non-negotiable biblical principles, exploration of characteristics unique to intercultural and cross-cultural communities, and applying ministry principles to the specific needs of individuals across the globe.

MI315 Cultural Anthropology

3 credits

This course is a study of culture, customs, moral codes, social institutions, languages, arts, religions and industries of world's people in order to give the student a better understanding of the social science of Anthropology along with skills and abilities to reach the people with whom he/she will labor.

MI321 Intercultural Communication

3 credits

This course is designed to develop the student's understanding of what culture is, how cultures communicate, increase sensitivity to and understanding of intercultural differences and similarities so that this awareness can lead to effective communication by helping the student build an effective approach to communicating effectively in intercultural settings, including those where language barriers may exit. A focus is placed on the many elements and processes involved in the sending and receiving of messages within intercultural contexts.

MI401 Church Planting and Development

3 credit

A study of reaching people and building the local church both stateside and cross—culturally is considered. This will start with the need to plant churches and that which is necessary to have a developing/expanding church. Biblical principles, theories, methods, and philosophies is discussed along with the giving of real–life illustrations. The intent of the course is to be extremely practical so that the student will be prepared to start a church.

MI402 Missions Seminar

3 credits

This course examines the personal journey an individual must take in their initial preparation for vocational cross-cultural mission. This includes the 'calling' of the individual as well as the community that will stand with them. In addition, this class will focus on a number of practical issues such as church relations, financial issue, partnerships (local and international) and best practice methodologies. This class is designed to complement the student's subsequent on field training.

MI411 Intercultural Evangelism

3 credits

This course is designed to help students develop an effective practical approach to bringing the unchanging gospel to culturally diverse settings in today's world. Core gospel concepts will be reviewed along with an evaluation of methods of engagement, challenges of communication, indigenous worldviews, cultural patterns and identification of local practical needs will be explored with a view to determining the logical starting point when communicating the gospel to the target culture.

MI475 Missionary Apprenticeship Theory

1 credit

This course is structured to help the student integrate the classroom material into the practical, ongoing ministries of global missions. The 15 week in-class theory course on campus is in preparation to the six-week period of continuing educational experiences (apprenticeship) on a ministry location under the mentoring supervision of an experienced missionary. This apprenticeship is required for each General Missions major after the completion of their junior year.

MI480 Missionary Apprenticeship Program (MAP)

3 credits

This course is structured to help the student integrate the classroom material into the practical, ongoing ministries of global missions. The six-week period apprenticeship of continuing educational experiences will take place on a ministry location under the mentoring supervision of an experienced missionary. This apprenticeship is required for each Intercultural Studies major after the completion of their junior year. Appointment to a MAP practicum ministry location will be decided upon by the student, the professor and the student's home church.

MI482 Short-term Ministry Apprenticeship

1. 2. or 3 credits

This study program is structured to assist the mission minded student to integrate what he/she is learning about the Great Commission and put it into action in a cross-cultural ministry for the duration of one week to a year. This program will be accomplished under the supervision of capable missionary personnel.

MI485 Cultural Immersion (South Africa Edition)

3 credits

This course is structured to help the student prepare for and engage in an immersive, intercultural study abroad experience. The student will engage in an eight-week period of continuing education experiences that will be under the supervision of (a) Clarks Summit University Professor(s). This course consists of both pre- and post-trip preparation and debrief work as well.

MI490 Independent Study in Missions

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course is designed to help the student study areas of missions not included in other mission's courses. Areas to be studied and other details are developed between the student and the instructor. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Army ROTC

MIL101/102 Concepts of Leadership I and II

1 credit

Instruction focuses on providing a basic understanding of the Army and general military knowledge and skills while concentrating on leadership skills and civic responsibilities important to everyone. Classes are one hour a week.

MIL111L/112L, 131L/132L Leadership Application Laboratory

0 credit

This class focuses on hands—on application and reinforcement of classroom instruction as well as teaching weapons, first aid, land navigation, and tactical leadership. This class meets at various locations in the Scranton area for two hours each week, is highly encouraged for students in the basic course, and is required for students in the advanced course.

MIL138 Physical Fitness Training

1 credit

U.S. Army Master Fitness trainers supervise a comprehensive fitness program based on the latest military fitness techniques and principles. The classes are one hour in duration.

MIL201/202 Dynamics of Leadership I and II

2 credits

Instruction is designed to familiarize students with basic military leadership at the junior leader and immediate supervisor level. Classes are two hours each week.

MIL301/302 Basic Military Leadership I and II

2/1 credits

Instruction focuses on continued leadership development. Students are trained and evaluated on developing, managing, and presenting training to the MS I and II cadets. The goal of the MS I and II year is to prepare students for the National Leadership Development and Assessment Course. Classes are two hours each week.

MIL401/402 Advanced Military Leadership I and II

2/1 credits

Instruction focuses on teaching students to function as a member of a staff and continue to develop leadership skills. This course covers public speaking, military briefing, effective writing as well as training management, and administrative and logistical support. Classes are two hours each week.

Ministry - Mentored

MM301 Leadership

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of leadership. The course will combine study of leadership theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of leadership in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of leadership.

MM302 Communication

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of communication. The course will combine the study of communication theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-bases application and practice of communication in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of communication.

MM303 Outreach/Evangelism

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of outreach & evangelism. The course will combine the study of outreach theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of outreach & evangelism in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of outreach & evangelism.

MM304 Discipleship

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of discipleship. The course will combine the study of discipleship theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of discipleship in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of discipleship.

MM305 Strategic Planning

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of Strategic Planning. The course will combine the study of Strategic Planning theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of Strategic Planning in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of Strategic Planning.

MM306 Spiritual Formation

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of Spiritual Formation. The course will combine the study of Spiritual Formation theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of Spiritual Formation in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of Spiritual Formation.

MM307 Service/Missions

3 cred

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of service/missions. The course will combine the study of service/missions theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of service/missions in a ministry context. The experience will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of service/missions.

MM308 Small Groups

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices of small groups. The course will combine the study of small group's theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of small groups in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of small groups.

MM309 Special Ministry Focus

3 credits

This course is a study of the foundational concepts and practices for the area of ministry focus. The course will combine the study of the area of ministry focus theory and principles, with a carefully mentored experience-based application and practice of the area of focus in a ministry context. The experiences will be assessed for effectiveness within the ministry context, and the student will be evaluated for growth in their knowledge, application, and practice of the ministry area/focus.

Music

MU101 Music Theory I

3 credits

This course is a systematic approach to music fundamentals that connects theory with musical practice. Basics of notation are reviewed, and the rudiments of harmony are introduced. Specific attention is given to harmonic function and progression, triads and seventh chords, and melodic harmonization.

MU102 Music Theory II

3 credits

This course is a systematic approach to musical concepts begun in MU101. In addition to continued emphasis on triads and seventh chords, specific attention is given to melodic organization and introductory concepts of chromatic harmony. Prerequisite: MU101, MU104

MU104 Aural Skills I 2 credit

This course is a performance-oriented approach to aural perception of rhythm, meter, intervals, and scales. Through systematic training in recognition, identification, and performance of these musical elements, students will develop a "hearing" eye and a "seeing" ear. Special emphasis is given to sight—singing, error detection, and rhythmic and melodic dictation.

MU201 Music Theory III

3 credits

This course is a systematic approach to advanced musical concepts related to functional tonality. Specific attention is given to chromatic harmony and formal organization. A sample of genres studies includes Variations, Fugue, and Rondo. Prerequisite: MU101, MU102, MU104, MU209

MU202 Music Theory IV

3 credits

This course is a continuation of the musical concepts presented in MU201. Specific attention is given to late-Romantic and 20th century compositional techniques. Course material will discuss the expansion of functional tonality and introduce post-tonal theory concepts and analysis techniques. Prerequisite: MU101, MU102, MU201, MU104, MU209

MU209 Aural Skills II

2 cred

This course is a performance-oriented approach to aural perception of rhythm, meter, intervals, and scales. Through systematic training in recognition, identification, and performance of these musical elements, students will develop a "hearing" eye and a "seeing" ear. Special emphasis is given to sight-singing, error detection, inversions of the triad and 7th chords, as well as rhythmic and melodic dictation. Concepts and skills from MU104 are elaborated and further refined. Prerequisite: MU104

MU306 Group Vocal Technique

2 credits

This course prepares choral directors to successfully teach good vocal technique in the choral rehearsal. Through proper application of appropriate exercises to particular vocal problems—breathing, support, diaphragm activity, resonance, range extension, register consistency, vowel, modification, etc.—students will learn how to develop a beautiful choral sound. The class will function as a workshop in which students will develop their rehearsal/teaching skills in front of the rest of the class. Prerequisite: MU202

MU316 Orchestration 3 credits

MU322 Class Piano I 1 credit

This course is designed to advance the student's facility in the art of playing the piano through the study of technique, style, musicality, keyboard theory, performance practice, repertoire, practice methods, and pedagogical awareness. Students will have the opportunity to perform individually and as an ensemble. Daily and consistent practice is expected in order for the student to progress and develop.

MU323 Class Percussion

1 credit

This course is an introduction to percussion instruments that prepares directors of instrumental ensembles for confident, effective rehearsing and coaching. Students will learn the fundamentals of performance, with particular attention given to technical problems and the selection and care of instruments. Prerequisite: MU202

MU324 Class Strings 1 credit

This course is an introduction to string instruments that prepares directors of instrumental ensembles for confident, effective rehearsing and coaching. Students will learn the fundamentals of performance, with particular attention given to tone production, intonation, technical problems, and the selection and care of instruments. Prerequisite: MU202

MU325 Chapel Band 1 credit

This is a performance ensemble consisting of instrumentalists and singers who both rehearse and perform weekly for the purpose of leading corporate "gospel worship" in chapel. Instruction will be provided that serves to advance the student's understanding of and love for a gospel-centered worship philosophy, worship theory, worship performance practice, worship practice methods, worship repertoire, and worship performance. Prerequisite: Audition

MU326 Class Woodwinds

1 credit

This course is an introduction to woodwind instruments that prepares directors of instrumental ensembles for confident, effective rehearsing and coaching. Students will learn the fundamentals of performance, with particular attention given to tone production, intonation, technical problems, and the selection and care of instruments. Prerequisite: MU202

MU331 Class Piano II 1 credit

Class Piano II is designed to build on the concepts and skills from Class Piano I and to advance the student's facility in the art of playing the piano through the study of technique, style, musicality, keyboard theory, performance practice, repertoire, practice methods, and pedagogical awareness. Students will have the opportunity to perform individually and as an ensemble. Daily and consistent practice is expected in order for the student to progress and develop. There is a class fee of $50. Prerequisite: MU322

MU332 Class Brass 1 credit

This course is an introduction to brass instruments that prepares directors of instrumental ensembles for confident, effective rehearsing and coaching. Students will learn the fundamentals of performance, with particular attention given to tone production, intonation, technical problems, and the selection and care of instruments. Prerequisite: MU202

MU370 Concert Choir 1 credit

This course is a mixed ensemble that participates in special events including Winter Concerts and Spring Concerts, Community events, and Commencement activities. Open to both music majors and non-majors, three hours of weekly rehearsal are required. Prerequisite: Audition

MU401 Conducting 3 credits

In this course students will encounter and learn techniques and methods required to rehearse and direct instrumental and choral ensembles. In addition to learning basic conducting patterns and gestures, students will be introduced to score preparation, stylistic and expressive distinctions in conducting, and score reading that includes transposition and clef reading. Prerequisite: MU202

MU404 Foundations and Issues in Worship

3 credits

A study of the biblical and historical precedents of Christian worship as correctives to the errors that can easily dominate it: anthropocentric, rather than God–centered attitudes toward worship, methodological approaches to worship, and the performance–based approach. Scripture will be the primary source in examining the responsibility faced by the 21st–century Church as it attempts to worship in spirit and in truth in the face of many challenges.

MU426 Survey of Congregational Song

Psychology

PS100 General Psychology

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the field of psychology as a scientific discipline concerned with the study of behavior and cognitive processes. Included is a survey of fields such as biological bases of behavior, sensation and perception, learning, motivation and emotion, cognition, development, personality, intelligence, social behavior, abnormal behavior, and counseling.

PS117 Understanding and Treating Addictions

3 credits

This course is an overview of substance and behavioral addictions with leading focuses on treatment. The student will explore biological, neuropsychological, social, and spiritual and Eco systematic influences and concerns related to helping those struggling with addiction.

PS202 Human Growth and Development

3 credits

This course is a study of human biological, sociological, psychological and spiritual development from birth through senescence. Emphasis is given to the child and adolescent periods.

PS203 Introduction to Counseling

3 credits

This course is a study of counseling theories and practices which apply to all people–related professions. A biblical counseling model covering intake to termination of a counseling relationship is presented.

PS204 Child and Adolescent Development

3 credits

This course is an exploration of the physiological, social, cognitive and spiritual development of children. Consideration is made of the implications of family systems and cultural diversity. Special emphasis is placed on facilitation of this development in educational and counseling contexts.

PS219 Behavior Addictions

An overview of substance and behavioral addictions with leading focuses on treatment. The student will explore biological, neuropsychological, social, spiritual and Eco systematic influences and concerns related to helping those struggling with addictions.

PS227 Substance Addictions

An overview of substance dependency and chemical addictions with leading focuses on assessment and treatment. The student will explore various categorical defining chemical dependency and social trends in addressing substance related disorders. With a focus on biblical worldview, students will explore competing arguments for addressing social concerns related to substance addictions.

PS303 Abnormal Psychology

3 credits

This course is a study of mental and behavioral pathology including possible causes, symptoms, and methods of remediation for given disorders. A survey of diagnostic classification systems and preventive measures with attention to cultural and philosophical factors is included.

PS304 Women Counseling Women

3 credits

This course is designed to develop the student's ability to provide biblical counsel relevant to issues facing women today. The student will assess the interaction of cultural influences and biblical principles and how that has an impact on growth and discipleship in women. Discussion will center on how one's spiritual heart condition influences one's ability to counsel and to be counseled. Also listed as EM336

PS307 Adult Development

3 credits

A study of human biological, sociological, and psychological development from early adulthood through senescence. Emphasis is given to the physiological, cognitive, social and spiritual developmental processes.

PS308 Psychology of Learning and Education

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the concepts of psychology which relate to the learning process. Among the topics considered are learning theories and their applications, characteristics of students and teachers, learning and teaching styles, and exceptional children.

PE310 Dynamics of Discipleship

3 credits

As Christians, we are called to be disciples of Jesus Christ, followers in His way, participants in His mission in the world. Ministry leadership, in all of its variances, is about helping people become such followers of Jesus Christ. This course will focus on facilitating discovery of what it means to lead people toward their process of aggressive growth. To do so, we will explore what it means to be a disciple and we can help people grow to be more like Jesus.

PS313 Ethics and Professionalism

3 credit

This course is an orientation to the fields and professions in the arenas of counseling and psychology and a review of legal and ethical issues relevant to counseling activities. Consideration is given to licensure and certification issues as well as continuing education.

PS315 Cultural Applications of Human Services

3 credit

A study abroad experience in which the student will observe and interact with the structure and function of counseling and criminal justice services

PS402 Historical and Contemporary Theories in Counseling

3 credits

This course is a survey of trends in secular and Christian counseling. Theories are traced with reference to their historical settings; diverse counseling models are critiqued and evaluated.

PS414 Marriage and Family Dynamics

3 credits

This course is a study of both ineffective and effective marital and family relating patterns. The student will be introduced to a variety of counseling approaches for group intervention. Students will also be equipped with a biblical model for working with couples and families.

PS416 Crisis Counseling

3 credits

This course is a study of crisis intervention and counseling. Students will be introduced to a variety of models for assessing, strategies for helping, and approaches for counseling those in crisis. They will learn how to effectively help others in times of crisis from both professional and ministry perspectives.

PS440 Psychology for Residence Leadership

3 credits

This course is a study of psychology for residence leadership with an emphasis upon counseling, administration, and personality development within the residence hall program. This course is available only to current Resident Assistants.

PS451 Personality Theory

3 credits

This course is an exploration of major theories regarding the development, structure, and dynamics of human personality.

PS453 Social Psychology

3 credits

This course is a study of the influence of social forces and interaction on human behavior. The effects of social class, mass media and group membership upon attitude formation are considered, as well as the role of self-presentation strategies in indicating credibility. Students will complete a social psychological quasi experiment and present a poster session.

PS454 Tests and Measurements

3 credits

This course is an introduction to personality, psychological and intellectual assessment instruments. Statistical concepts and techniques are introduced, such as measures of central tendency and dispersion, normal probability curve, and descriptive and inferential statistical procedures.

PS480 Senior Portfolio

1 credit

A capstone course that collects and refines key assignments and achievements from the counseling program. The student will then defend that learning to a panel of counseling faculty and staff.

PS490 Independent Study in Psychology

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course is an independent study designed to meet the needs of the individual student who desires summer reading in psychology. Written reports required in this course on assigned work. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Science

SC200 Physical Science Survey

3 credits

An Introduction to the fundamentals of matter and energy, emphasizing the Biblical teaching of a literal six-day creation for Interpreting scientific data.

SC202 Earth Science Survey

3 credits

This course Is a study of the fundamentals of geology and astronomy, emphasizing the biblical teaching of a literal six-day creation and a universal flood for Interpreting scientific data.

SC203/207 Biology I with Lab

4 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic principles of biology. Students will demonstrate an understanding of such topics as cell structure; cell function, cell division, metabolic pathways, and genetics. The student further explores these concepts through a separate three–hour lab (SC207) taken in conjunction with the three hours of classroom instruction (SC203).

SC205 Integrated Science

3 credits

This course covers topics in physics, chemistry, astronomy, geology, meteorology, and botany. Students will develop literacy in science and technology and be introduced to current science pedagogy. This course is designed to give students majoring in Early Childhood/Elementary Education PreK-4 a strong foundation in and a practical understanding of the content necessary to successfully teach science in pre-school and any grade from kindergarten through fourth.

SC206/208 Human Anatomy and Physiology I with Lab

4 credits

This course is an introduction to the structures and functions of the human body. Students will demonstrate an understanding of how their bodies operate at the tissue, organ, and system levels. The student further explores these concepts through a separate three–hour lab (SC208) taken in conjunction with the three hours of classroom instruction (SC206). Prerequisites: SC203 and SC207

SC211 Essentials of Genetics

3 credits

This course is an integrated study of Mendelian, Human, and Molecular genetics. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the basic principles governing the transmission, mutation, and function of the genetic material. Prerequisite: SC203

SC214 Astronomy

3 credits

This course is a survey of basic astronomical concepts. Students will demonstrate an understanding of stars, planets, galaxies and the universe along with various techniques for collecting astronomical data. Additionally, students will discuss how a Christian worldview is viable in the study of astronomy.

SC218/SC218L Biology II with Lab

4 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic principles of biology. Students will demonstrate an understanding of such topics as plant biology, microbiology, animal diversity, evolutionary theory, and ecology. The student further explores these concepts through a separate three—hour lab (SC218L) taken in conjunction with the three hours of classroom instruction (SC218). Biology with Lab is 3 credits- for non-majors only.

SC221/225 Chemistry I with Lab

4 credits

This course is an introduction to the principles of inorganic chemistry. Students will gain an understanding of atomic, molecular, and crystalline structures; explain the drives, energy changes, and stoichiometry of chemical reactions; predict the effect of molecular geometry on physical and chemical characteristics; and solve problems related to these subjects. Student will further explore these concepts through a separate three-hour lab (SC225) each week.

SC222/226 Chemistry II with Lab

4 credits

This course extends students' knowledge of inorganic chemistry and also delves into units devoted to organic chemistry, electrochemistry, and nuclear chemistry. Students will apply kinetics to reaction systems and chemical equilibrium; describe the characteristics and stoichiometry of acid-based reactions; learn fundamental principles of electro-, organic, and nuclear chemistry; and solve problems related to these subjects. Students will further explore these concepts in a separate three-hour lab (SC226) each week. Prerequisite: SC221 and SC225.

SC223/223L Physics I with Lab

4 credits

This course is an introduction to the essential principles of mechanics- the study of motion. Mastery of these concepts will come from solving and discussing problems related to the various aspects of motion, including the motion of waves. Students will further explore mechanics through a separate three-hour lab (SC223L) each week. Prerequisite: Grade of "C" or better in MA112 or permission of the instructor.

SC224/224L Physics II with Lab

4 credits

This course is an introduction to the principles of sound, electricity, magnetism, thermodynamics, and modern physics. Knowledge of these topics will be strengthened through solving and discussing problems related to each topic. Students will further explore these topics in a separate three-hour lab (224L) each week. Prerequisite: Grade of "C" or better in SC223 and SC223L, or permission of the instructor.

SC231 Physiological Psychology

4 credits

This course is a study of the nervous system as it relates to psychology including neural structure and function, pathology, and psychopharmacology. Students will apply this knowledge in the field of counseling including evaluating research, describing drug interaction, and identifying potential physiological causes for psychological symptoms. Prerequisite: PS100

SC233/233L Biology I Survey with Lab

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic principles of biology for non-science majors. Students will demonstrate an understanding of selected topics from SC203 Biology I such as cell structure, function, and division, metabolic pathways, and genetics. The student further explores these concepts through a separate lab (SC122L) taken in conjunction with separate classroom instruction (SC233).

SC234/234L Biology II Survey with Lab

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the basic principles of biology for non-science majors. Students will demonstrate an understanding of selected topics from SC218 Biology II such as plant biology, microbiology, animal diversity, and ecology. The student further explores these concepts through a separate lab (SC234L) taken in conjunction with separate classroom instruction (SC234)

SC254 Marine Biology and Ecology

3 credits

This course is an overview of the marine environment. Basic scientific principles will be applied to the study of marine organisms and their diverse ecosystems.

SC255 Field Marine Biology and Ecology

3 credits

This course is a field study of the marine environment. Basic scientific principles will be applied to the study of marine organisms in their natural habitats. Emphasis will be on marine ecosystems and the interrelation of primary producers, invertebrates, and marine fishes.

SC261/SC261L Human Anatomy and Physiology II with Lab

4 credits

A more in-depth study of the structures and functions of the human body. Students will demonstrate an understanding of how their bodies operate at the tissue, organ, and system levels. The student further explores these concepts through a separate three—hour lab (SC261L) taken in conjunction with the three hours of classroom instruction (SC261). Prerequisites: SC203, SC207, SC206 and SC208

SC301 Kinesiology

3 credits

This course is dedicated to the analysis of human movements as it relates to body mechanics, basic skills, and athletic performance. Individual muscles (position and purpose), levers, and laws of nature as they relate to movement will be discussed. Prerequisites: SC206 or permission of instructor

SC401 Introduction to Organic Chemistry and Biochemistry

3 credits

This course is an introductory study of the chemistry of life. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the structure and function of biomolecules, rates of chemical reactions, mechanisms of enzyme action, and metabolism. Prerequisite: SC203, SC207, SC222, SC226.

SC412 Biotechnology

3 credits

This course is a study of the principles of molecular biology that make biotechnology possible and the techniques that come from the practical application of some of these principles. Student will apply these concepts and techniques to a given research project. One hour of discussion will precede a weekly three—hour lab. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

SC490 Independent Study in Science

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course of independent study is open to students interested in areas of science not covered by current courses. All details are worked out between the student and the instructor. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Special Education

SED320 Introduction to Special Education

3 credits

This course is an introduction to the exceptional learner and the range of special needs these students possess. Among topics considered, are outcomes of exceptional learner; Principles of instruction, assessment and other issues dealing with the role of the teacher.

SED323 Teaching Students with Emotional and Behavioral Disabilities

3 credits

This course will help teachers assess, plan, organize, and deliver individualized academic and behavior programming. Data will be collected on student performance that will be used to inform instructional decisions. Characteristics of students with these disorders, law, applied behavior analysis, positive behavior support, cognitive behavioral interventions, and social skills training will be covered. Evidence-based classroom and behavior management strategies and procedures will be discussed.

SED413 Teaching in the Inclusive Classroom

3 credits

This course focuses on strategies and adaptation for designing academic instruction, supporting social and emotional learning, and planning for the sensory and physical needs of all students. The three-tier model of intervention (Rtl) is fully discussed as well as the inclusive teaching of the content areas. The course also covers adapting assessment within the inclusive classroom. Universal Design for Learning (UDL) is used as the basis of much of our study.

SED429 Autism Spectrum Disorder

3 credits

This course will provide information concerning the characteristics and identification of a person on the autism spectrum. Assessment, progress monitoring, and evidence-based practices will be discussed. Information is presented that addresses ASD across the lifespan, including, preschool, school age, and transition stages.

SED432 Teaching Students with Learning Disabilities

3 credits

This course will provide strategies for effective teaching of learning-disabled students being taught in any setting. Assessment, methodology and teaching strategies for language, reading, written language, mathematics, science and social studies will be addressed. Assessment and strategies for teaching critical skills such as study and social skills is also covered.

SED437 Teaching Gifted and Talented Students

3 credits

This course addresses the needs of students who have amazing abilities and are in need of varied curriculum and/or programs that allow them the opportunity to grow. Characteristics of these students and methods of providing appropriate education for these students will be discussed. Issues of assessment and identification are addressed and models for educating the gifted learner are provided.

Sports Ministries

SM206 Introduction to Sports Management

3 credits

The course is designed to introduce the student to the field of sport management. A primary focus will be on the history and nature of the sport industry including the development of the sport management profession. Special attention will be given to the concepts of organization structure, management principles and leadership, including specific application of these concepts.

SM301 History and Philosophy of Sports Ministry

3 credits

This course examines the history of ancient and modern sports and their relationship to both early and present Christianity. A special emphasis is given to the lives of influential Christians. A biblical rationale for sports ministry is presented, as are numerous ministry models.

SM302 Biblical Foundations for Sports Ministry

3 credits

This course provides a theological foundation for sports ministry. Competition and sports—related activities are viewed through the lens of Scripture, and emphasis is placed on the integration of faith and sports participation.

SM303 Evangelism and Discipleship in Sports Ministry

3 credits

This course examines the mandate to preach the gospel and to make disciples within a sports ministry context. Students will learn the skills required to use sports and recreation effectively as vehicles to accomplish the ministry of evangelism and discipleship.

SM304 Administration and Organization of Sports Ministry

3 credits

This course is an examination of the various roles and functions required for establishing, organizing, and overseeing a sports ministry program. An emphasis is placed on the daily operation of a sports ministry and on the selection and oversight of activities, personnel, and facilities.

SM306 Sport Event and Facility Management

3 credits

This course will examine the basic principles and practices related to planning, funding, and operating sporting and recreation events and facilities. The course is designed to provide sports management managers with the general knowledge necessary for planning and operating sports and recreation facilities and events.

SM310 Sports Ministry Apprenticeship I

3 credits

This course requires a minimum ten—week full—time summer apprenticeship and is open to qualified students who have completed the junior year. Students will work directly with an experienced leader for training in sports ministry. The apprenticeship may be served in an approved local church, para—church, or mission agency. Consult with department chair.

SM410 Sports Ministry Apprenticeship II

3 credits

This course is a part–time apprenticeship. Qualified students are placed in a community setting under an approved leader. Consult with department chair.

Sociology

SO301 Introduction to Sociology

3 credits

This course Introduces students to the field of sociology by providing a broad overview of sociology and how It applies to life. Major sociology theoretical perspectives and concepts are presented such as culture, deviance, Inequality, and social change. Students will also explore the Influence of social structures and institutions such as family, religion, education, healthcare, government, economics status, politics, and geography. Furthermore, the course will consider the contributions and challenges of sociology within the Christian worldview.

SO315 Cultural Anthropology

3 credits

This course is a study of culture, customs, moral codes, social institutions, languages, arts, religions and industries of world's people in order to give the student a better understanding of the social science of Anthropology along with skills and abilities to reach the people with whom he/she will labor. (also labeled MI315)

SO402 Global Cultures and Geography

3 credits

This course exposes the student to introductory material dealing with culture and geography especially designed for teaching geography in the secondary school. Geographical thinking about spatial relations, natural resources, human geographic processes, and key geographic topics provide the tools for examining worldwide cultures. While primarily designed for education majors, this course offers other students an appreciation of geography and culture that can aid their future ministries in multiple contexts. (also available for 2 credits as GE402).

Speech

SP100 Speech Communication

3 credits

This course is designed to aid the student in developing the fundamental tools necessary to become an effective communicator. Emphasis will be placed on the process of speech preparation and precise delivery.

SP301 Oral Interpretation

3 credits

This course introduces the student to the use of oral reading as a skill that can be used to minister to an audience. Training is given in the selection, analysis, vocal and physical techniques needed for effective presentation of meaningful pieces.

SP306 Mass Media 3 credits

This course provides a foundation for understanding the mass media by examining the form, content, influence, and problems of books, periodicals, newspaper, music, film, radio, television, and the Internet.

SP490 Independent Study in Speech

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course is open to students interested in areas not covered by current course offerings. Advanced study and practice in public speaking, special voice and diction problems, as well as other communication skills, are options for the student. Prerequisites: SP100, permission of instructor, and permission of department chair

Theology

TH120 Building a Biblical Lifestyle

3 credits

This course helps the student to develop a philosophy and strategy of godly living that will guide him or her for a lifetime. These foundational concepts for successful Christian living include developing a biblical world view, ethics and patterns of behavior; Bible study; prayer; and making biblically–informed choices.

TH211 Theology Survey

3 credits

This course surveys eight of the major divisions of theology- the doctrines of the Bible, God, Christ, Holy Spirit, Man, Sin, Salvation, and Angels (includes Satan and demons)

TH308 Theological Distinctives

3 credits

This course studies the theological distinctives of this school in the doctrines of the Church (ecclesiology), Last Things, and Separation (both personal and ecclesiastical).

TH480 Senior Seminar

3 credits

This course serves as (a capstone) a comprehensive review of the biblical, Theological, and Worldview components of the Biblical Studies Curriculum. It will include a review of hermeneutics and of the biblical meta–narrative, which provides the framework from which all of the University's Biblical Studies courses are developed. It will also include a theological review and oral examination based on the University's (Baptist, Separatist, and Dispensational) theological and ecclesiastical positions. Prerequisites: TH211 and TH308.

TH490 Independent Study in Theology

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course is a program of independent study open to qualified students interested in areas of theological study not covered by current courses. Written reports are required. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

TH507 Theological Issues and the Church

3 credits

This course is a study of a variety of contemporary theological issues which are confronting local church leaders and members at this time. The emphasis is upon the biblical evaluation of these issues in light of the absolute Word of God and the cultural milieu in which they are occurring. The course will focus on the development of critical thinking and the building of a Christian world–view as a foundation for the critical analysis of the contemporary theological issues.

TH511 How to Develop a Biblical Worldview

3 credits

This course is a presentation of the basic steps for building a Christian world–view that is true to the Bible. The student will be guided through the process of building a biblical world–view using case studies at various levels of doing theology: exegesis and biblical theology, linking from one passage to another in the Scriptures, categorizing all of the biblical data on various themes, validating extra–biblical truth claims, and applying biblical teaching to all of life.

TH516 Christology 3 credits

This course is a study of the person and work of Christ. It will deal with the question of all ages "Who do you say that I am?" which Jesus asks his disciples two thousand years ago. The course provides an examination of the biblical and theological evidence concerning the identity of Jesus Christ and His life, work, teaching, death, resurrection, present work and second coming.

TH517 Survey of Doctrine

3 credits

This course is an overview of the ten major theologies of the Bible. Examination of the major issues behind Bibliology, Theology Proper, Christology, Pneumatology, Angelology, Anthropology, Hamartiology, Soteriology, Ecclesiology and Eschatology will be conducted in a systematic approach.

TH521 Apologetics 3 credits

This course is designed to present the truths of biblical Christianity in comparison to other religions and world views. Students have the opportunity to explore the biblical and philosophical basis for knowing and communicating their Christian faith. The course seeks to help students understand their Christianity and joyfully share their lives with others around the world.

TH522 Church and Baptist Distinctives

3 credits

Students in this course will understand God's design for the nature and mission of the Church in the world. As to the nature of the Church, students will analyze the tensions that exist between various views in Christendom concerning the relationship of Israel and the Church, global versus local aspects of church, church government, leadership, the practice of baptism and communion, and church discipline. Students will resolve these tensions by a methodologically sound approach to Scripture rather than tradition or contemporary culture. As to the mission of the Church, the student will understand a broadly based and biblical rationale for social responsibility of the part of the churches and Christians. They will exhibit the priority of the gospel of eternal life through Christ.

TH523 Dispensational Premillennialism

3 credits

In this course the students will have the opportunity to examine God's multifaceted plan for the world, past, present, and future. The course offers a dispensational premillennial approach enabling students to understand God's plan for the ages. The course experience helps students to compare and contrast this interpretive approach to others.

TH524 Dynamics of Spiritual Growth

2 credits

This course is a study of biblical texts concerning sanctification and discipleship along with practical implementation through spiritual disciplines. Emphasis will be made on application to the student's personal and ministry life.

TH535 Theology in Praxis

3 credits

This course is designed to prepare the student to engage in the evaluation and implementation of doing theology within a particular context. The student will develop a biblical philosophy for the foundation and goals of a theology of praxis. The course will focus on preparing the student to participate in a wide range of activities from an informal/formal internship program to assisting in launching an organization. Prerequisite: Completion of BA511, BA517, BA527, and BA524

TH538 An Interpretive Study of Biblical Discipleship

3 credits

An exploration of key New Testament passages key to biblical interpretation of spiritual development and of the practice of making disciples. Focus will be given to the discipling ministry of Christ and of the early church as displayed in the Gospels and in the Acts of the Apostles. Focus will also be given to the process of spiritual development as discussed in the New Testament Epistles.

TH561 The Development of Theology in Cultural Settings

3 credits

This course is an evaluation of the development of theology from historical forms to modern contextual theologies within specific cultural settings. The student will analyze the underlying cultural, theological, and sociological factors that have impacted the development of cultural theological expressions with the goal of comparing and contrasting each theological form with the Bible. Special emphasis will be given to the study of how culture has shaped both the questions and categories of theology.

Youth Ministries

YM301 Youth Ministry Philosophy

3 credits

This course is designed to help students establish a biblical foundational philosophy for ministering to youth and to introduce students to basic skills and competencies necessary for effective youth ministry in any culture. Emphasis will be placed on understanding non-negotiable biblical principles, exploration of characteristics unique to youth and youth culture, and applying ministry principles to the specific needs of adolescents.

YM302 Youth Ministry Strategy

3 credits

This course is designed to introduce students to practical competencies and skills for the effective development and use of a wide range of programming as tools for accomplishing biblical ministry objectives.

YM402 Youth Ministry Seminar

3 credits

This course provides students with a grid for integrating the various pieces of their youth ministry education into a useable foundation for effectiveness as a youth pastor.

YM407 Youth Evangelism

3 credits

The goal of this course is to help students develop ministries which will enable them to train teens to influence their world with the gospel of Jesus Christ. A secondary goal is to help students develop a personal plan to have an effective outreach ministry themselves.

YM480 Youth Ministry Apprenticeship

3 credits

This course is a minimum of ten weeks full—time summer apprenticeship. Qualified students are placed under the supervision of an experienced youth worker for training and experience in a youth ministry environment. Open to students who have completed the junior year. May or may not be taken for credit. Interested students should consult with the department chair early in the junior year.

YM490 Independent Study in Youth Ministry

1, 2, or 3 credits

This course is designed to help the student study areas of youth ministry not included in other courses. Areas of concentration and other details are worked out between the student and the instructor.

FINANCIAL AID

The Lord brings to Clarks Summit University a group of dedicated men and women preparing to be the next generation of Christian leaders. The University desires to prepare students for God's calling in life through classroom training, practical experience, and financial responsibility. Clarks Summit University offers a wide range of financial counseling to students through the Financial Aid Office. In addition, the University seeks to develop financial policies that are fair and equitable for all students.

The Financial Aid Office provides a vital function in the students' educational experience. The staff is available to counsel and advise students concerning their financial needs allowing students to complete their education with minimal outstanding debt.

Clarks Summit University maintains a diverse range of financial aid programs, which include grants, scholarships, and loans. Grants are defined as aid awarded based upon need and do not need to be repaid. Scholarships are awards based on merit or achievement and also do not need to be repaid. Loans are borrowed funds that are repaid with interest.

Clarks Summit University is approved by the Department of Education to participate in the Federal Pell Grant program, campus-based funding, and William D. Ford Direct Loan program and cooperates with various state grant programs including the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency (PHEAA).

STUDENT FINANCIAL POLICIES

By registering for classes, the student assumes an obligation to care for charges incurred for education services. For additional billing and payment information, please visit Billing and Payment.

All Clarks Summit University students are required to be paid-in-full by the due date of their first bill each semester.

Payment in full can be made by one-time payment, or with financial aid, loans, outside payments from an organization or individual, or by enrolling in a semester-based payment plan with a pre-determined number of months. If you know that funds will be coming (such as payment from a church or individual other than a family member), please be sure to email the Financial Aid Office at Financialaid@ClarksSummitU.edu so it can be taken into account on your bill.

Billing Statement Dates

Billing statements are available the first of the month following course registration. Students registered after the 24th of a given month may not receive their bill until the following month. All bills are due by the 15th of the month they are issued.

Billing statements are based upon course registration at the time the statement is generated. As such, students registered in advance for second session online courses will be billed for their courses as early as the following month.

Payment Plans

There is a $50/semester enrollment fee for payment plans.

Late Fees

A $40 late fee will be charged for all missed or late payments received after the 15th of the month. Partial payments are considered late. Two consecutive late fees will result in a financial hold.

Default Fees

Accounts with two or more consecutive late fees are in default. A $100 default fee will be charged after the second late fee. Students enrolled in a payment plan with Tuition Management Systems who miss two consecutive payments will be dropped from the plan and charged a default fee. Defaulted accounts will be placed on financial hold.

Delinguency Financial Hold

Accounts that are not paid in full or enrolled in a payment plan after the due date of the first bill each semester will be placed on hold. While on hold, a student cannot view their schedule, register for classes, or receive a transcript or diploma.

Likewise, accounts that are charged two consecutive late fees for insufficient payment in a given semester will also be placed on hold.

Students with a past due balance after the semester ends may not be permitted to return in future semesters. In addition, if the student fails to make consistent payments on an established payment plan for a past due account, Clarks Summit University reserves the right to seek collection assistance from a third party.

Overpayments and Refunds

In the event you have overpaid your charges, we will refund the overpayment upon your request. If a request for your refund is not made, your overpaid balance will be applied to future semesters.

Title IV Credit Balances

Credit balances occur when Title IV program funds (Pell, FSEOG, and Federal Direct Loans) disbursed to a student's account exceed their total of tuition, fees, and room and board charged for the term. Title IV credit balances will be automatically refunded to the student no later than 14 days from the date of disbursement. Refund checks are mailed to the student's address on file. If courses are dropped resulting in a necessary return of Title IV funds, the student is required to return to Clarks Summit University the equivalent portion of the stipend paid.

Credit Balances as a Result of Institutional Aid

All institutional scholarships are intended to be used as a supplement to state and federal financial aid. A student whose account shows a credit balance as a result of institutional scholarships will not be eligible for a refund from the college. If, after applying federal and state grants, institutional aid results in a credit balance, the institutional aid will be adjusted to create an account balance of zero.

Book Vouchers

If a student's aid (including grants, scholarships, and loans) will exceed their charges, the student may request a book voucher to be used at Clarks Summit University's online bookstore. To request this voucher, please email Financial Aid at financialaid@ClarksSummitU.edu.

Outstanding Account Balances

If a student's account is not cared for in a timely manner, Clarks Summit University reserves the right to place the account on "financial hold." A financial hold will prevent a student from registering for classes in the following term.

No diplomas or transcripts will be issued to any party until the student's financial obligations to the institution (Business office, OSD and/or Library fines) have been met.

Refund Policy for Dropped Courses

Dropped Courses Procedure

The final recorded day of class attendance will be designated as the student's last day of attendance for that class. The student must follow appropriate procedure for notification to the Registrar's Office upon dropping their class(es).

Course Refund Schedule

Refund amounts are based on tuition and general fees only. Refunds at the undergraduate level are only applicable for students who drop class(es) that put them below the 12- to 18-credit flat rate, or place them into the 12- to 18-credit flat rate.

Percentage of Course Completed	Percentage Refunded
.0.00% - 12.5%	100%
12.5% - 25%	50%
>25%	0%

For various reasons, students may need to stop attending all of their courses. Any student, who either stops attending or officially drops all of their current courses, is considered to have withdrawn from the institution.

All students withdrawing from Clarks Summit University must complete a withdrawal form. Each student's final day of class attendance must be documented on the form in order to avoid overpayment liability of federal student aid. Students who are dismissed are not exempt from this policy. Online students may obtain the Course Drop and Withdrawal form located in the Resources section in the Online Student Hub in Schoology. On campus University students must stop by the Office of Student Development to receive a form and begin the process of obtaining all necessary signatures from appropriate offices which will maintain a copy of their files.

Students attending modules or sessions shorter than a full semester must provide a written intent to attend their either already registered courses for the next session or module within the same semester, or those courses they plan to register for. This can be accomplished by simply completing the Course Drop and Withdrawal form located in the Resources section in the Online Student Hub in Schoology. Just check the box that indicates you plan to attend other courses in a future session or module within the same term, specify the dates, and sign the form. Any student already registered for a future session or module who does not check this box on the signed form and who does not end up attending these already registered courses will be considered withdrawn from the institution as of their last documented date of attendance. Any student who does not check the box but does in fact take later courses within the same semester will have all previously calculated refunds reversed as well as their withdrawal status.

REFUND POLICY FOR FULL WITHDRAWAL FROM SCHOOL

Full Withdrawal Refund Schedule

Refunds are calculated based upon all institutional charges including tuition, fees, room, and board.

Total Amount of Institutional Costs x Percentage of enrollment period not complete Student Refund

If a student has completed 60 percent or more of the enrollment period, then the percentage of cost incurred by the student is 100 percent.

Return of Federal Title IV Aid upon Complete Withdrawal from School

The Financial Aid Office is required by Federal statute to determine how much financial aid was earned by students who withdraw, drop out, or are dismissed prior to completing 60% of a payment period or term.

For a student who withdraws after the 60% point-in-time, there are no unearned funds. However, a school must still complete a return calculation in order to determine whether the student is eligible for a post-withdrawal disbursement.

The calculation is based on the percentage of earned aid using the following Federal Return of Title IV Fund Formula: percentage of term completed = the number of days completed up to the withdrawal date divided by the total days in the term. (Any break of five days or more is not counted as part of the days in the term.) This percentage is also the percentage of earned aid.

Funds are returned to the appropriate Federal program based on the percentage of unearned aid using the following formula:

Percentage of aid to be returned = 100 percent - percent of earned aid.

Multiply the total amount of aid that could have been disbursed during the term by the percent of aid to be returned.

If a student earned less aid than was disbursed, the institution would be required to return a portion of the funds and the student would be required to return a portion of the funds. When Title IV funds are returned, the student borrower may owe a debit balance to the institution.

If a student earned more aid than was disbursed to him/her, the institution would owe the student a post-withdrawal disbursement which must be paid within 120 days of the student's withdrawal.

The institution must return the amount of Title IV funds for which it is responsible no later than 45 days after the date of the determination of the student's withdrawal.

Refunds are allocated in the following order:

- Unsubsidized Federal Direct Stafford Loans
- Subsidized Federal Direct Stafford Loans
- Federal Parent (PLUS) Loans
- Federal Pell Grants for which a return of funds is required
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

Return of Non-Title IV Aid

When a student withdraws during Clarks Summit University's refund period (less than 60% of the term completed), the institutional aid received by the student will be reduced in proportion to the adjustment of the student's charges. The only exception is outside scholarships with specific program requirements for full return upon withdrawal. A student who withdraws prior to completion of 25% of the term will forfeit all institutional scholarships for that term.

UNOFFICIAL WITHDRAWALS

Students no longer desiring to complete a course must fill out a course drop form to officially notify the University of the student's intent to withdraw from the course. Course drop forms are available from the Registrar's Office or in Schoology. Students that stop attending a course, without filling out the course drop form, will be withdrawn from the course after 14 consecutive calendar days of non-attendance.

Attendance, for online courses, is determined by submission of an academic assignment such as an examination, written paper or project, discussion board post, or other similar academic event.

Courses not officially dropped, in which the student stops attending the course for 14 days or more, will be assigned a grade of FN (Failure for Non-attendance), dated to the student's last date of attendance in the course. The FN grade indicates that the student stopped attending the course and failed to meet the course objectives. An FN grade is calculated into the student's grade point average like an F grade.

Students receiving a course grade of FN are responsible for all resulting charges to their student account. If, at any point, a student has dropped and/or unofficially withdrawn from all courses for the term, the student will be withdrawn from the University and will be subject to the Unofficial Withdrawal procedure, including the reduction and/or return of all financial aid. The full Financial Aid Withdrawal policy is available at https://www.clarkssummitu.edu/admissions/future-undergraduate-students/undergraduate-financial-aid/financial-forms-resources/withdrawals-refunds/.

Unofficial Withdrawal Appeal

Students who receive a grade of "FN" may appeal to their professor to have the grade removed in order to continue work in the course. This appeal must be communicated in written form to the faculty member within 1 week of the notification of the "FN" grade being posted. The appeal must include a statement that the student desires to continue in the course. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the professor, the student may appeal the decision according to the University's Student Appeals and Grievance Policy.

https://www.clarkssummitu.edu/academics/academic-policies-procedures/.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

The U.S. Department of Education mandates institutions of higher education to establish minimum standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) to be evaluated and monitored for all students in order to receive Federal (Title IV) aid. Any student who is otherwise eligible must meet the standards used by the institution to determine if a Title IV recipient is maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress in his or her course of study, regardless of whether the student had previously received Title IV aid.

Students must meet Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements in order to receive Federal (Title IV) financial aid that includes Pell Grants, Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants, Stafford Loans, Plus Loans, and Federal Work Study.

This policy describes Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements and is in addition to and operates separately from the Academic Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements.

Evaluating Satisfactory Academic Progress

All students will be evaluated using qualitative, quantitative, and maximum time frame standards. Academic records of all students will be reviewed after the end of each term (fall, spring, and summer). The review is cumulative and includes all courses taken at the student's current academic level. After the evaluation, letters will be sent to all students who have not successfully met SAP requirements. Warning letters will be sent to those who did not meet the requirements at the end of the first term, and those who are not making progress at the end of the second term will receive a letter that their financial aid has been suspended until the deficiency is made up.

Qualitative Standard

To meet the qualitative standard, students must obtain a minimum cumulative GPA as determined by their classification and program. Cumulative GPA is composed of all coursework at the current academic level and is calculated by the Registrar's Office.

Student Classification

	Minimum Requirea Cum. GPA
All Undergraduate Programs (1–18 hours attempted)	1.4
All Undergraduate Programs (19–36 hours attempted)	1.6
All Undergraduate Programs (37–55 hours attempted)	1.8
All Undergraduate Programs (56+ hours attempted)	2.0
All Graduate Programs (except M.Min. and M.Div.), including doctoral programs	3.0
M.Min. and M.Div.	2.0

Minimum Required Cum. GPA for Accelerated Counseling

All Undergraduate Programs (1–18 hours attempted)	2.4
All Undergraduate Programs (19–36 hours attempted)	2.6
All Undergraduate Programs (37–55 hours attempted)	2.8
All Undergraduate Programs (56+ hours attempted)	3.0

Once a transfer student has grades for a term at Clarks Summit University for coursework taken toward an eligible program, the institution will use the cumulative GPA calculated from those grades only.

Quantitative Standard

In order to meet the quantitative standard, students must complete 67% of their cumulative attempted credits at their current level. Withdrawals, incompletes, repeated courses, and failure grades will count as attempted but not earned credits and will lower the completion rate.

Transfer credits will count as attempted and earned. Completion rates are NOT ROUNDED UP to meet progress. If a student has a completion rate of 66.777%, they are not meeting the minimum 67% requirement of satisfactory academic progress for Title IV federal aid.

Maximum Time Frame

A student may not exceed a maximum number of attempted credits in any program even if aid was not received during that term or prior terms. The maximum number of credits is 150% of the program's required credits. Once the student reaches the maximum timeframe allowed, the student will be ineligible to receive Title IV financial aid; students may appeal on the basis of coursework not applicable to current degree program (see Appeals section below).

The maximum number of attempted credits allowed can be calculated by multiplying the number of credits required in the program by 1.5. Program Credits X 1.5 = Maximum Allowed

Some examples are provided below.

Academic Program	Required Program Credits	Max # of Attempted Credits Allowed
General Education	60	90.0
Pastoral Ministry	131	196.5
Master of Arts	30	45.0
Master of Divinity	94	141.0

Break in Enrollment

When a student has a break in enrollment and is readmitted, the Satisfactory Academic Progress status for prior terms will apply. For example, if a student is placed on financial aid suspension at the end of the spring term, does not return in the fall term, and is readmitted the next spring term, the student will continue in a financial aid suspension status for that term.

TERMS / PARTS-OF-TERMS / SUMMER SESSIONS

A traditional semester is referred to as a standard term (e.g. Fall, Spring, and Summer). Standard terms, as defined by Clarks Summit University, are comprised of a combination of smaller "sub terms" (such as online sessions 1 and 2 in any given semester). Satisfactory Academic Progress requirements are calculated based on the combined subterms as defined by Clarks Summit University. Credits taken during Winterim will be added to the Spring term. Any other intensive courses will fall within a standard term (and be attributed to only that specific standard term).

Summer sub-terms (Summer online sessions and Seminary modules), for the purpose of credit hour load and measurement of progress, are combined together into the Summer term.

REPEATED COURSES

Repeated courses are considered in all areas of SAP measurement. Courses will be considered attempted even if they are not earned each time the course is taken which will affect the student's maximum time frame and completion rate. It should be noted however that a student is only allowed to receive Title IV Federal aid for a passed repeated course only once. Failed courses are not affected.

TRANSFER CREDITS

GPA's for transfer courses are not considered in determining eligibility under the qualitative measure but transfer credits are considered in the qualitative, quantitative and maximum time frame measurements. Transfer students are awarded as first—year students without regard to grade or warning status at the prior post—secondary institution. SAP requirements would then be used to measure the transfer student's continued status. Transfer credits must be evaluated and a grade—level established before any educational loans are processed.

CONSORTIUM AGREEMENTS

A consortium agreement is an agreement between two "like" institutions whereby the main enrollment is at Clarks Summit University (called the "home" institution) and the student takes courses at another eligible institution (called the "host" institution). This agreement will allow a student to take classes at the "host" institution while receiving their financial aid through the "home" institution.

The number of credits earned under an approved consortium agreement is integrated into the student's record upon completion of the course. Note: Courses must first be approved for transfer by the Clarks Summit University Registrar's Office. The Consortium Agreement is also subject to approval by both the home and host institution's authorized Financial Aid staff. Failure to complete the course/s could negatively reflect in the SAP evaluation. Financial Aid staff from the home school will request information from the host school during the enrolled term to confirm continued enrollment and satisfactory academic progress.

CHANGE IN MAJOR / ADDITIONAL DEGREES

When a student changes his/her major or seeks an additional degree, the student may appeal to the Financial Aid Office to have courses attempted and earned that do not count toward the student's new major or degree excluded from the calculation of the student's SAP standing.

CHANGED GRADES

If a grade is changed, the student is required to notify The Financial Aid Office immediately. Financial Aid staff will then initiate a review of the effect of the grade change on academic progress within 30 days of notification. A grade change initiated late or after the term in question or failure to notify the Financial Aid Office may result in the loss of financial aid eligibility because regulations may limit the time within which aid may be re—awarded or disbursed.

FAILURE TO MAKE SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

Students who fail to meet the qualitative, quantitative, or maximum timeframe standards at the end of a term will be placed on financial aid "warning" status for the next term and will remain eligible for financial aid while on a warning status. Students on financial aid warning status must meet SAP qualification requirements by the next term's measurement of progress. Students not meeting the requirements at the next term's measurement of progress will be placed on financial aid suspension and considered ineligible for future financial aid until the deficiencies are resolved.

REESTABLISHING ELIGIBILITY FOR FINANCIAL AID

Students may re—establish eligibility for financial aid by taking appropriate action that brings the student into compliance with the standards. Readmission to Clarks Summit University after academic suspension or approval of an academic suspension appeal does not automatically reinstate financial aid eligibility after a financial aid suspension. Reinstatement of aid eligibility is not retroactive. Reinstatement of aid eligibility will only affect current or future enrollment periods.

Once a student has made up either a credit deficiency or a GPA deficiency, it is his/her responsibility to notify the Financial Aid Office to request that aid be reinstated.

APPEALS

Any student placed on Financial Aid Suspension has the opportunity to appeal such action. Circumstances under which a student should submit an appeal include death of a relative, personal injury or illness, or other extreme circumstance outside the control of the student.

To make an appeal, send a signed and dated letter to the Director of Student Financial Services within 30 days prior to the last day of classes during the semester in question. Students should address the following areas of concern in their appeal letter:

- What were the circumstances in your life that prevented you from meeting SAP requirements?
- What has changed that will enable you to meet SAP at the next evaluation?

If the school can confidently determine that the student will be able to meet SAP requirements after the subsequent term, the appeal will be granted. However, at the Director's discretion, if it is uncertain that the student will meet the requirements for the next evaluation, an academic plan suitable to the student's specific academic circumstance may be developed to ensure that the student is able to meet SAP standards by a specific point in time.

If a student decides to return to Clarks Summit University after a lengthy absence and was on academic probation when they withdrew from the institution, then, the student must write an appeal letter to the Director of Student Financial Services explaining the above-mentioned items. If the appeal is granted, the student will be given financial aid for one semester so that the appropriate GPA can be attained in order to meet the Satisfactory Academic Policy (SAP) guidelines.

Student Progress

Students are responsible to review their grades (when midterm and end-of-term grades are available) and compare their progress to the standards set forth in the Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Policy to ensure that they are aware of their standing. As they review their academic information, students are encouraged to proactively seek assistance. For example, students could pursue additional academic advising, arrange tutoring, or regularly discuss their academic work with their instructor(s). The student's responsibility to monitor their own academic progress is important especially as the evaluation may immediately affect their financial aid eligibility for the next term. For example, a student who fails to meet standards after receiving a financial aid warning at the start of the Fall semester will be immediately affected for aid eligibility in the Spring semester.

STUDY ABROAD

Students interested in participating in a Study Abroad Program should:

- Receive approval from both Academics and OSD.
- Contact the Registrar's Office to determine if all of the credits will transfer into the student's program of study.
- Contact the Financial Aid Office to determine qualification for any financial aid for the semester he/she would be studying abroad.
